Turks Reject New British Cyprus Plan

Partnership Idea Also Rebuffed By Greek Government

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish Cypriot leaders have rejected Britain's partnership plan for governing this embattled island. The Greek government agreed to talk about it and the Greek Cypriots awaited word from Athens today.

A Greek government source said Premier Constantine Karamanlis' Cabinet definitely would reject the plan, which calls for the Greek and Turkish governments to join Britain in governing the island. The NATO allies were putting strong pressure on Greece at least to join in discussions and Britain planned to go ahead with the plan in any event.

Archbishop Makarios, exiled leader of the Greek Cypriot movement to unite the island with Greece, conferred in Athens with Cypriot mayors. He said he would send his views to the British today.

Thirty thousand British troops waited tensely to put down any new violence growing out of the three-nation tug of war which threatens the Mediterranean anchor of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Rioting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots has cost 17 lives this month.

The last week has been comparatively quiet, but today a 25-year-old Turkish Cypriot was critically wounded in the crowded market place at Limassol.

A crowd of Turkish Cypriots gathered after the shooting, and four Greek Cypriots were stoned. The British clamped a rigid curfew on the city and rushed in large numbers of troops.

Although the Turks sent a note rejecting the plan as such, they agreed to negotiate on it and attend any conference with Britain and Greece. Earlier Turkish Cypriot leader Rauf Denktaş said the plan did not set up safeguards to keep the island from uniting with Greece and "we are not interested." The Turkish minority wants Cyprus partitioned.

Truman Aide Decision Due

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chief Judge Archibald K. Gardner of the U.S. Court of Appeals expects to rule by Saturday morning on an eleventh-hour bid by two former Truman administration officials to escape going to prison.

Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle are scheduled to surrender here Saturday to begin serving two-year prison terms for conspiring to defraud the government in an income tax case.

Connelly, who was Truman's appointments secretary, and Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, have asked a stay of execution of their sentences until U. S. District Court disposal of their request for a new trial. They asked a second trial on grounds of new evidence.

Earth Physical Examination Reveals Interesting Things

By REM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—For 11 months more than 10,000 scientists in 66 nations have been giving the earth a sort of physical examination.

Many of their findings were included in testimony and reports by the National Science Foundation to a House Appropriations subcommittee, which made public its transcript today.

They have found:

At the rate man is feeding carbon dioxide to the atmosphere, there is a possibility the world may become a much warmer, gigantic greenhouse.

Mountains float on the earth's molten interior like icebergs.

If Business Improves: GOP Hoping Adams Issue To Fade Soon

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON—Republicans apparently hope a substantial upturn in business will come along soon to get them off the political hook of the Sherman Adams controversy.

GOP members of Congress are divided in support and opposition to President Eisenhower's decision to keep Adams at work as his right-hand man despite the furor over Adams' acceptance of costly favors from millionaire industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

But few Republicans doubt that the Adams incident has hurt their chances of re-election in about the same degree that Democratic candidates were affected by corruption charges against the Truman administration in 1952.

The Republican hope is that there will be more important—and more cheering—matters to discuss in September and October, before the general election vote.

Fundamentally most of the Republicans have felt that the economic situation in October is likely to be more influential on the election results than almost any other single issue.

It was for that reason they were cheered with Eisenhower's report to the Republican state chairmen that there are some clear signs of a business upswing.

Newsman were given no details of the picture Eisenhower painted in response to the state chairmen's questions. But a number of government reports on sales, inventories, employment and other indicators have shown gains in recent weeks. The Assn. of American Railroads reported Thursday that last week's freight-carloadings reached a new high for 1958.

Federal Reserve officials reported that while current easy money policies are being continued, they no longer see a need for pouring more millions into the money supply.

On the other hand they indicated no present plan to raise interest rates or take other anti-inflationary steps.

The prince's sister, Princess Augusta of Hesse, and the bride's son, John Field, were the only witnesses. John is a student at Harvard University.

Chiang Regime Plans Newspaper Controls

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Nationalist Chinese legislature completed passage of a government newspaper and magazine control bill today. It needs only President Chiang Kai-shek's signature to become law.

The bill permits the government to suspend publications after nine warnings or if convicted of sedition or treason.

The space through which this planet twirls is not a simple void, but is filled with thin gases representing the outer reaches of the sun's atmosphere.

If 10 per cent of the volume of ice in the world melted, large sections of the United States would be under-water. Once the scientists estimated the globe's ice content at 3,240,000 cubic miles. With closer inspection of the Antarctic they now figure the old estimate was 40 per cent short.

The sea is an apparently rich source of minerals and food. One area contained $500,000 worth of minerals per square mile.

Solons Push Efforts For Tax Cutting

Potter And Douglas Will Seek Cuts As New Debate Resumes

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators favoring anti-recession tax cuts renewed their drive today, encouraged by a surprise vote to wipe out levies on passenger tickets and freight.

The Senate sharply rebuffed the Eisenhower administration and its own leaders Thursday night as it voted repeal of the World War II transportation taxes despite pleas that such action might open the way to cuts elsewhere.

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) pressed ahead with another proposal for cutting the automobile excise tax, while Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said he planned another stab at reducing taxes on small business.

Begin Hour Earlier

The Senate was called into session an hour earlier than usual in an effort to complete action on these and other amendments to a House-passed bill to extend present corporation and major excise tax rates for a year beyond June 30.

Both Republican leader William F. Knowland of California and Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas opposed the amendments to repeal the 3 per cent freight tax and the 10 per cent levy on passenger tickets.

The amendment erasing the freight levy was adopted 59-25, with 33 Democrats and 26 Republicans joining forces to write it into the bill. Voting against it were 10 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

The vote approving repeal of the 10 per cent levy on passenger fares was 50-35. Twenty-seven Democrats and 23 Republicans voted for repeal, while 17 Democrats and 18 Republicans voted against it.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson has estimated that repeal of the freight tax would cut revenues 487 million dollars and the passenger fare levy 230 million, a total of 717 million annually.

Just before the vote Knowland appealed to the Senate to reject the amendment in the light of "the cold, hard facts of the budget situation."

Must Go Back To House

Russians Stage Embassy Protest

LONDON (AP)—A crowd of Russians demonstrated in front of the Danish Embassy in Moscow today in protest against anti-Soviet outbreaks in Copenhagen over the execution of Imre Nagy and his Hungarian associates. The demonstration, a rarity in disciplined Moscow, was reported by Moscow radio.

Danish crowds, angered at the news of the death of Nagy, stoned the Russian Embassy in Copenhagen Tuesday night and smashed some windows.

Michigan Man Takes Long Trek To Huge Bridge

STRAITS OF MACKINAC BRIDGE, Mich. (AP)—If Marion Pearson takes a walk around the countryside today, it'll be a short one.

Pearson, 60, a Grand Rapids, Mich., businessman, Thursday finished a 342-mile walk from the Indiana Turnpike to the southern approach to the Straits of Mackinac bridge.

Resting 10 minutes every hour, he averaged about three miles an hour and made the trip by foot in 12 days.

Pearson, president of the International Walkers Assn., hiked from Toledo to Miami, Fla., a journey of more than 1,200 miles, in 1920. The trip took two months.

Jurist Decrees Segregation End

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller has approved a plan to desegregate Nashville's city school system on a grade-year basis. He said the gradual plan would be in the best interest of all concerned.

The first grade was desegregated last fall amid sporadic violence, and 11 Negro pupils remained enrolled in five previously all-white schools throughout the school years.

Nashville thus becomes the third city in Tennessee to begin school desegregation since the U.S. Supreme Court held in 1954 that compulsory racial segregation violated the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

A VACANT CHAIR—Thirteen women sat at a dinner table last night in New York for what was to have been a farewell party. Guest of honor was to have been Mrs. Annie Visconti, 64, retiring after 28 years with a cable and radio firm. But she did not arrive. Stricken with a heart attack, she died while dressing for the party. (AP Photos)

Florida Club Gave Hagerty Free Lodging

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty and his wife vacationed for five days as guests of the exclusive Ponte Vedra club near Jacksonville Beach from Jan. 27 through Feb. 1, the newspaper said.

J. P. McMaster president of Ponte Vedra Corp., told the newspaper, "when he got here, Hagerty insisted on paying his bill. We wouldn't let him do it."

Mayhugh Courson, assistant manager of the club, said honored guests don't receive bills.

In Washington, Hagerty said: "The account is correct as reported, except for one thing. I did pay for my golf lessons. I personally paid the club pro."

"I did insist, as the account says, on paying my entire bill, but the club would not let me do so."

Under the circumstances, there was nothing wrong in this. I don't see how anyone could make anything of my being a guest of the club at their insistence."

McMaster said there was no thought of gaining a favor by paying Hagerty's bill.

Ike Attends Parley Of Defense Leaders

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—President Eisenhower heads for this big Marine Corps base today to sit in on a conference of the top civilian and uniformed leaders of the armed forces.

Weather permitting, old soldier Eisenhower planned to make the 35 mile trip from the White House by helicopter. In the event of bad weather, he arranged to drive to the gathering of about 175 defense leaders.

There were no announced plans for Eisenhower to talk to the conference which meets annually to discuss internal Defense Department matters and worldwide military problems.

Weather Due To Stay Cool

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Showers and thunderstorms are likely about Monday and Wednesday with amounts of rainfall averaging around one inch. Cool over the weekend, a little warmer Monday then turning cooler Tuesday or Wednesday. Temperatures will average about two to five degrees below normal. Normal highs range from the mid 80s in the east to the mid upper 70s in the mountains.

Gunfire Ends As Dag Opens Lebanon Talk

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld met today with Lebanese Premier Sami Solh, a target of the rebellion which the U.N. secretary general is seeking to quiet.

Rebels remained alert at roadblocks and strongpoints in Beirut and throughout the country but still withheld their fire. Since Hammarskjöld arrived Thursday, Lebanon has had its quietest period since the rebellion began May 10.

Hammarskjöld was accompanied by David Blikenstein, the American secretary of the U.N. observation group looking out for United Arab Republic intervention in the rebellion.

Hammarskjöld flew in from New York early Thursday. Most Lebanese hoped he would find a way to end the rebellion. The rebels are seeking to oust pro-Western President Camille Chamoun and replace Solh with a premier who favors U.A.R. President Nasser's brand of Arab neutralism.

Big Liner Rolls Beyond Runway

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—An airliner carrying 26 passengers rolled past the end of the runway and skidded to a halt in a muddy ditch at Jackson Airport Thursday night.

No injuries were reported. State police said the pilot of the North Central Airlines DC3 told them his brakes failed as he came in for a landing. The plane carried a crew of three.

Bob Crosby Son Arrested In L. A. For 'Joy-Riding'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Orchestra leader Bob Crosby's son Christopher, 15, and a companion were arrested early today. Police said they had pushed a sports car out of a Bel-Air driveway.

Young Crosby and Jeffrey Davidson, 16, were booked at the West Los Angeles police station on suspicion of "temporarily depriving the owner of a vehicle (joy-riding)."

"Christopher said he didn't know why they did it, that it was a crazy idea and they just wanted to try it out," Officer W. R. Maxwell reported.

Young Crosby was released to his mother, Mrs. June Crosby.

Negroes Riot In St. Louis, Battle Police

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rioting Negroes chanting "Little, Little Rock" battled St. Louis County police early today after an officer arrested a 17-year-old youth on a traffic charge.

About 35 Negroes from the village of Meacham Park near suburban Kirkwood were involved in the hour-long riot, police said. Seven were arrested after four patrol cars were called.

Bricks and stones were hurled at the car of patrolman Richard Seger, 25, who had stopped Lee W. Lawrence, 17, on a careless driving charge.

Seger said he ordered Lawrence out of the car for a search and the boy came out fighting.

Other men came out of nearby houses and taverns as Seger sought to subdue Lawrence and his 17-year-old companion, Alfred S. Jackson.

"It seemed there were a 1,000," Seger said, "but I guess there weren't more than 35 or 40."

Seger said he battled his way back to his patrol car and radioed for help. Then a brick crashed through the window of the patrol car and struck Seger in the arm. The group chanted "Little Little Rock."

Four patrol cars quickly arrived.

Atom Bombing Survivor Given Russ Treatment

TOKYO (AP)—Hisako Nagata, 21, a survivor of the American atom bombing of Nagasaki in 1945, left for Moscow today for a year's free medical treatment she hopes may remove her scars and restore her voice.

Miss Nagata, petite daughter of a Nagasaki school teacher, is the first Japanese atomic victim to be invited by the Soviet Union for free treatment. Three years ago a U. S. group brought 25 scarred girl victims of the Hiroshima A-blast to New York for plastic surgery.

Soviet Aims New Plan To Boost Farm Output

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party today announced another step in Premier Khrushchev's plans to beat U.S. agricultural production by giving Russian farmers more incentive to grow more.

The party's Central Committee announced collective farms no longer will be required to deliver a large part of their output to the government at a fixed low price. Instead, a new pricing system will be established for the entire output of collective farms. It aims to introduce an element of competition for low-cost, efficient production.

A report on the Central Committee meeting of about 250 members on Tuesday and Wednesday also said two men were promoted to alternate membership in the committee's ruling Presidium, the key unit of power in Russia. It has had 15 full members and 9 alternates.

The two are N.V. Podgorny, first secretary of the Ukrainian Communist party, and Premier D. S. Poliansky of the Russian Federation, largest republic in the Soviet Union.

(There was no mention that the Central Committee meeting produced a shakeup in the Kremlin leadership, as Western observers had speculated might be taking place. Both the changes in the agricultural system and the promotion of Podgorny and Poliansky indicated Khrushchev still was in control.)

The committee decisions were based on a farm policy speech to it by Khrushchev. Publication of the speech — possibly Saturday — may clarify some points left vague in the published plan.

The announcement said the new plan will go into effect this year but did not specify when.

The committee made clear, however, that it is not relaxing controls over production.

New Philippine Credit Line Approved By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States agreed today to establish a new 75-million-dollar line of credit for the Philippines and provide 50 million dollars in development loan funds. The development loans are subject to congressional action.

The agreement was announced in a joint Philippines-U.S. statement issued by the White House at the conclusion of a three-day state visit by Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia.

The statement said Garcia and President Eisenhower reviewed economic development in the Philippines over the past years and examined the current economic problems which face that nation.

Garcia has been seeking a reported 350 million dollars in long-term credits.

The statement said:

"In view of the inability of the United States to anticipate accurate financial availabilities, and relative requirements beyond the next 12 months, immediate emphasis was placed on meeting the initial requirements of the Philippine program."

"For these initial requirements the Export-Import Bank informed the Philippine government that it will establish a new line of credit of 75 million dollars for financing private and public development projects in the Philippines."

"The Philippine government was also informed that subject to congressional action on the additional appropriations being requested, the development loan fund would examine specific projects submitted to it to determine whether they would merit development loan fund financing in an amount not to exceed 50 million dollars."

The announcement was made just ahead of Garcia's start on a tour of American cities.

He and his official party planned to leave by air for Chicago, first stop on an 11-day tour. Vice President Nixon prepared to see him off.

Garcia and President Eisenhower had a farewell meeting at the Philippine embassy Thursday night.

Red Execution Of Hungarians Rapped By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and the State Department, in separate actions, have denounced the execution of leading figures in Hungary's ill-starred revolt in 1956.

By a 91-0 vote, the Senate late Thursday adopted a resolution accusing Russia of "barbarism and perfidy" in the execution of Imre Nagy, Hungary's revolutionary premier; Gen. Pal Maleter, Nagy's defense minister, and two others. The House then followed suit by a vote of 171-0.

The State Department said in a statement that the execution of the Hungarian freedom leaders "is an affront to all members of the U.N. and to the conscience of the world."

TV Quiz Queen Needs Bank Loan To Get Vacation

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn woman applied for a bank loan Thursday to finance a summer vacation.

She had good looks and brains — neither of which is very good collateral.

She had no job. And she had no husband to cosign her note.

But she had the best security in the world, the loan man said.

She was TV quiz queen Elfrida von Nardoff, with winnings of $253,500 so far and a chance for more.

She can't get her hands on a penny of the winnings as long as she remains on the NBC show "Twenty-One."

Union Paper In Baltimore Seen Closed

BALTIMORE (AP) — A directive from George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, threatened today to force Baltimore's oldest labor-indorsed newspaper out of business.

Meany notified the Baltimore Council of AFL-CIO unions that labor-indorsed newspapers no longer can accept business from advertisers who are not completely unionized.

The council-indorsed Federationist Newspaper, a weekly founded in 1920, has been accepting advertising from union, non-union and partially unionized customers.

Some officials here doubt the local newspaper will be able to survive in view of the fact that much of the paper's income comes strictly from ads. About 35 percent of the publication's total income reportedly is taken up by advertising.

As an alternative, some labor officials said the newspaper could continue publishing by suspending advertising and trying to exist on a subscription basis, or by withdrawing the council's indorsement and continuing under the present policy.

said the freight amendment would repeal the 3 per cent tax on all classes of freight, whether in carload or less than carload lots, and whether carried by land, sea or air. Congressional experts at first said pipeline shipments were not affected, but later said they were in error and the bill in its present form would repeal the 4½ per cent levy on crude oil and "liquid products thereof" moved by pipeline.

House Probers Gave Adams 'Feather Duster' Treatment

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House subcommittee probing Sherman Adams' relations with Bernard Goldfine is neither the sharpest, toughest nor most thorough group that ever quizzed a witness on Capitol Hill.

The treatment given Adams when he went before the subcommittee on the tax extension bill, compared with that handed other witnesses in other cases before other committees — was almost like a once-over lightly with a feather duster.

On June 10 the subcommittee disclosed that Goldfine, an industrialist, had footed more than $2,000 in bills run up at his expense at a Boston hotel by Adams, President Eisenhower's chief assistant.

This caused such a storm that on June 12 Adams wrote the subcommittee, acknowledging he had stayed at a Boston hotel and charged it to Goldfine. He added something which the subcommittee apparently didn't know: that he had done the same at a hotel in Plymouth, Mass.

On June 13 at a news conference James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, referred to Adams' letter and said he believed the President's No. 1 aide had "put on the record all the facts."

As it turned out, Adams hadn't put all the facts on the record.

On June 16 the subcommittee disclosed Adams had also stayed at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York at Goldfine's expense, although he didn't mention that in his letter.

Adams confirmed that when he appeared before the subcommittee June 17. He also informed the congressional group in his testimony, but not in his letter, that he had received from Goldfine vicuna cloth — which he said cost Goldfine's mills $69 — for a coat and that Goldfine had given him.

Notice is hereby given that application was made on the 11th day of June 1958 by The Western Union Telegraph Company to the Federal Communications Commission to close the railroad-operated agency office at Patterson Creek, W. Va.

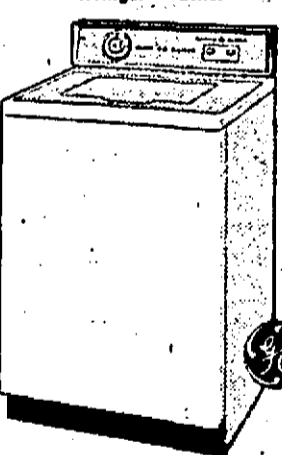

If the application is granted, substitute service will be available by telephone through the Class 1 office located at 59 North Centre Street, Cumberland, Md., and the Class 9 office at Gainer's Pharmacy, Romney, W. Va.

Any member of the public desiring to protest or support the closing of this office may communicate in writing with the Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before July 9, 1958.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of flags, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris

The Name-Callers

IT APPEARS to be almost the first rule of politics that opponents must be depicted as lunkheads or scoundrels. If a candidate can make out that his opponent qualifies on both scores, so much the better. The lunkhead or scoundrel approach, carried out vigorously, may infuse a humdrum contest with an air of excitement for awhile. This is about the only thing to be said in its favor.

RECENTLY a candidate for governor of a large state declared that he was going to conduct his campaign on a high, constructive plane. That sounded fine. But in his very next sentence he referred to his opponents as a smear gang with left-wing leaders. This instance is cited, not because it is unusual, but because it is rather typical. What, one might ask, became of that "high, constructive plane?" Sometimes, when the mind wanders off to Never-Never Land, and the place where the woodbine twineth, it is fun to speculate about what might happen if every politician were denied the bludgeon of exaggeration. Some would be struck dumb at once. Others might be forced to do a little homework on the issues.

POLITICS would hardly be politics without name-calling. Exaggeration of an opponent's shortcomings is a favorite political weapon, and quite often the only one a politician is capable of wielding. This does not alter the fact that a battle of bad names generally winds up as a profound insult to the voters. They deserve better than that; they deserve an honest, factual discussion of the issues. If this sounds like impractical Pollyanna talk, so be it. It is, nevertheless, the truth.

Peace Of The Arts

DURING ALL THE weary centuries since humanity was first caught in the toils of the recurrent plague called war, wise men have been seeking for a level upon which tribe and nation could have intercourse without bloody antagonisms. The Olympic games have been thought of in that way. William James' work, "The Moral Equivalent of War," is a celebrated effort along this line. One promising common meeting ground for humanity is the arts—literature, music, painting, and so forth. We have been at least part way there since music became generally recognized as a kind of "universal language." Beethoven, Tchaikovsky and Stephen Foster can be equally moving to a German, a Russian, an American. Musical sentiments traverse national boundaries. A mother's lullaby can soothe equally the babe in Lithuania or Mississippi. In the field of painting and sculpture, similarly, the universality of human emotion is self-evident. A fine work of art may tug at the heart strings of Albanian and Canadian alike. Humanity can—and must, if it is to survive—climb above those areas of international competition that breed warfare. It would be foolish to suppose that this could ever be done without hard, persistent work in politics, economics and social science. Yet a "peace of the arts" would be a fruitful beginning.

To Graduates

THERE ALWAYS seems to be an ample supply of platitudes and statements of the obvious, but they flourish especially well at this time of the year. They come to fullest flower in numberless high school commencement addresses. One bit of wisdom recurs more frequently than almost any other in these examples of the art of elocution. The young people in cap and gown are generally assured in solemn tones that they will be the leaders of tomorrow. Few things could be more certain than that tomorrow's leaders will be drawn from among today's high school graduates. One might also point out, however—as the commencement speakers rarely do—that the graduating classes also contain most of tomorrow's followers. This is not said in cynicism. The point to be made is that in any society only a few are leaders, making innovations and striking out on new paths. Most of us are not leaders. But all of us, leaders or not, can do our best to pull our weight, live the good life, and leave the world a bit better than we found it. A man or woman who does that can stand with head high among the leaders any day.

THE TROUBLE with pearls of wisdom is that some are not cultivated.

Country Ahead Of Congress On Adams Case

WASHINGTON — This was the position when Sherman Adams concluded his precedent-shattering appearance before the Harris subcommittee investigating the regulatory agencies.

President Eisenhower's strategy is to give his near-indispensable aide a trial heat in the public-opinion stakes. The President sent Adams into the running with a kindly pat on the head.

The Adams strategy bore clearly the hallmark of William P. Rogers, now Attorney General, as it burst on the nation in Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's famous 1952 telecast defense of his private expense account as a Senator, another Rogers script.

FOR THE NIXON dog, Checkers, was substituted the success story of Russian immigrant Bernard Goldfine, the old friend for whom Adams interceded with the agencies whose top personnel clears through the Adams office.

The vicuna coat said to cost $700 was transmuted directly into another Republican cloth coat made of Goldfine material which Adams has now been informed cost the Goldfine mill "about $69."

It was not directly developed exactly what Goldfine paid a Boston tailor to make it up.

In this same vein the $2,400 rug bought by Goldfine for Adams at Macy's in New York turned into a lend-lease transaction of indeterminate duration.

GOLDFINE complained of "the rather shabby old rug" Adams had in his rented house here.

Adams said he couldn't afford to replace it, as he would have no use for a big rug in his modest home in a town of 1,200 in New Hampshire.

Goldfine produced the replacement but "still considers it his property."

There were, incidentally, two

Oriental mats as well; nobody inquired about their cost.

The idea that the subcommittee was operating from a glass house was implanted repeatedly with a contention by Adams that what he did for Goldfine was only what members of Congress do daily for their constituents.

Adams is, of course, an appointive official operating in the privileged sanctuary of the White House. Members of Congress go before the public for judgment at the ballot box at regular intervals.

IN THIS effort Adams depleted himself rather humbly as both accessible and courteous, a finding notoriously at odds with Congressional and press experience.

But the subcommittee treated his whole effort to create the best possible emotional climate for himself with great indulgence. They were polite and patient; they did not interrupt him. It was very sporting and very unlike their dealings with the ordinary run of witnesses.

On the findings of fact, however, as seen by Adams, both members and counsel dealt him lethal blows.

Adams contended he did nothing special for Goldfine and got no unusual results.

CHIEF Counsel Robert W. Lishman showed that the Adams calls produced instant action from the then Federal Trade Commission chairman, Edward F. Howrey, who gave Adams information forbidden by law either to Goldfine or any Goldfine lawyer. Adams replied weakly he did not know that the giving of such information was forbidden and that he had "no present recollection" of passing it on to Goldfine.

Lishman showed, too, that although Goldfine's violations of FTC regulations were persistent and had elicited from an examiner recommendations for "vigorous prosecution," all were settled by consent.

Chairman Harris and Representative John E. Moss Jr. of California recalled the East Boston case which found Goldfine complaining about the actions of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Adams has admitted that in 1956 he asked White House Counsel Gerald Morgan to "find out what this is all about."

THE SOLONS developed that a Securities and Exchange commissioner called at Morgan's office with the SEC's Goldfine file. Adams disclaimed knowledge of it. Morgan, who was seated beside him, was not asked about it.

Subcommittee sources said this case would be developed later and that it is a sordid story. Adams' attempted depreciation of the power of the words, "The White House calling," was mangled by Moss.

Chairman Harris laid the groundwork for putting responsibility on Eisenhower's shoulders for weakness in the regulatory agencies themselves. He maneuvered Adams into a defense of the President's power to hire and fire the commissioners—a circumstance obviously conditioning them to responsiveness when the White House calls.

Two of the four subcommittee Republicans made half-hearted attempts to back Adams—Representatives Joseph P. O'Hara of Minnesota and Charles A. Wollerton of New Jersey.

The packed hearing room afforded some evidence that the country is ahead of Congress and the White House on the Adams issue. They are polite. The audience gave way to some derisive laughter.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—There is a tiny French car on the market, and it must have some sort of psychic drive, because the other evening a salesman came around on factory orders to take me for a 50-mile spin and demonstrate the virtues of the Peugeot. And less than 12 hours later, in my office, there came a letter from a reader who wishes anonymity. He recited, for no readily apparent reason but interestingly, the story of the first time Peugeot cars were sent here to compete at Indianapolis.

"YOU WON'T remember it (thanks for the implied compliment, but I do), but the 1913 500-mile race at Indianapolis was won by Peugeot, with Jules Goux, of the factory, driving," the gentleman writes. "It was the first time foreign cars were ever entered in the classic. I remember that England sent a Sunbeam that year (they still make them) and the Belgians had an entry."

"The Peugeot team, Goux and Paul Zucarelli, created a stir when they arrived at Indianapolis. They were met by an official delegation carrying French flags and were taken in parade to a luncheon. Carl Fisher had employed a former French Army officer as interpreter and constant companion of the Peugeot drivers, but I likewise helped out in this line."

"I SAT NEXT to Harry Stutz at this luncheon in the Columbia Club and Harry, making those wonderful cars of his, was thirsting for information and that got me into trouble. He said: 'Ask them what kind of tire lugs they use.' I was stumped. Tire lugs were absent from my French vocabulary. Indeed, I don't think I knew what they were in English, even."

"The next problem concerned American drivers. They took a dim view of these Frenchmen. For one thing, they were convinced that the visitors were effeminate and 'sissy.' Didn't these two Gauls wear watches right on their wrists? Didn't they? Sure, they did. That made them effeminate. "It took about four hours for that mocking tune to change. It changed abruptly and with some awe when the two began working on their cars. Mechanics passed the word along swiftly and Johnny Aiken, who had himself won a 500-mile race, went over to watch. In three minutes he issued the new policy: 'These guys may seem funny to us, but they know cars inside out. They are okay.'"

"WHEN THE race came, things happened. Zucarelli ran into trouble early and had to drive his Peugeot into the pits and quit the race. But Goux plugged on and had wonderful luck. In the last rounds, he was far, far in the lead and stunned everyone when suddenly he drove into the pits and said he simply could not go on until he had had a bottle of champagne."

"This was hustled to him, he popped the cork, drank it down, while other cars were catching up to his time and laps. He was unperturbed, relaxed. The champagne seemed to give him a new lease on life. He zoomed out onto the track, stuck his foot down on the accelerator, made up his lost time and won by a tremendous margin of time and laps."

"WHEN THE race ended, he was called in to receive the trophy and a check for $50,000, top prize money, was presented to him. He shook his head. No checks. He wanted $50,000—in gold. He wasn't going to be flim-flammed by any American sharpers. So they went to the bank next day and got him $50,000 in gold, a sizable thing in weight, and he lugged it intact all the way back to France."

"I haven't in years heard of the Peugeot, but now here it is back as a midge and on the American market. I thought it would be interesting to tell of its first invasion of the United States."

It was interesting. To me at least. And thanks. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Sherm Doesn't Need Coat Now

WASHINGTON — I'm still worrying about Sherm Adams' free vicuna overcoat. He's a little guy with hardly any meat on his bones and during a New Hampshire winter he needs a good benny to keep him warm.

The coat that his pal, Bernard Goldfine, slipped him apparently won't do the job. I wouldn't say it was shoddy, but it's no genuine vicuna.

The House caucus room was jammed tighter than since the days of the Alger Hiss pumpkin papers proceedings when the congressmen have taken on unaccounted-for government counterpart funds in foreign currencies?

Rep. John E. Moss has been waging a valiant campaign these last few years to break down the barriers of government secrecy.

But the lightest-held secrets in Washington are the Senate and House financial records which would show how much every congressman spent while abroad, and what for.

Representative Moss wouldn't dare try to break down this financial censorship. What's more, no congressman would dare rat on his colleagues by revealing his own expense vouchers.

THE MORAL of this argument is that the ethical standards of this capital are pretty low.

Just how low may be illustrated by the Securities and Exchange Commission's effort to draft "canons of ethics" for its members.

When SEC Chairman Edward N. Gadsby came to town last August, he saw the need for a code of conduct at once. The idea was encouraged when the House Commerce Committee began its investigation of regulatory agencies.

With SEC approval, Chairman Gadsby had a code drawn up. It called for bans against (1) the use of official position for personal profit, (2) acceptance of gifts from people doing business with government, (3) discussion of future employment with private companies.

white-haired little assistant to the President popped a menthol-flavored cough drop in his mouth and started telling the Congressmen about his overcoat troubles. Implication was that the aftermath made him feel so warm he didn't need an overcoat.

A GENUINE vicuna overcoat of good quality costs from $1,000 to $1,500. Of that we can be sure. First reports had it that Adams' coat was worth $700.

He told the lawmakers investigating favors done for textile magnate Goldfine that this figure was ridiculous. His old friend did, indeed, give him some cloth manufactured in his own mills and went with him to a Boston tailor to have it made into a coat.

Adams said since his overcoat had become page one news he'd done some investigating back home and learned that the cloth in his coat cost Goldfine $69.

That means it couldn't have been genuine vicuna, which sells wholesale at $135 a yard.

MY OWN GUESS is that Adams' coat was made of a trick cloth manufactured by Goldfine and, according to the Federal Trade Commission, mislabeled. The label said it was 90 per cent wool and 10 per cent vicuna. The FTC took a look with a microscope, detected another 10 per cent of nylon, and filed charges of misrepresentation.

Goldfine's troubles with the Federal textile sleuths, as it happened, caused him to ask Adams to get in touch with the FTC. This old Sherm was as glad to do for a friend as for a stranger, he said, and the charges were eventually dropped.

HE WENT ON to say that he could see nothing wrong in old friends exchanging gifts. He got the overcoat, all right, but once he gave Goldfine a gold watch. Mrs. Adams also painted a picture which has a prominent position on the living room wall of Goldfine's 14-room mansion at Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Sherm seemed to feel that the overcoat was of small consequence, particularly since Goldfine passed out such garments to all the boys.

The Governor of each of the 48 states got such a coat, said Sherm. So did the Governors of all the territories; we can presume that the Governor of Hawaii hasn't much use for his.

THE $2,400 Oriental rug, an oversized one, on the floor at Adams' rented house here, it developed, is there on a kind of domestic lend-lease from Goldfine.

The generous one, said Sherm, noticed how shabby was the Adames' own rug and offered to present them a new one. Sherm declined because his was a rented house and he wouldn't need such a big carpet anywhere else.

So good old Goldfine bought a new rug anyhow and installed it in Sherm's place. Goldfine still owns it and presumably will take it back when Adams moves.

The latter told the Congressmen that if he had it to do all over again, he'd do it differently. He's trotting softly, meantime, on that borrowed Oriental. (United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Wives are always writing notes to themselves headed: "Things to do." Every now and then, however, when the foibles of civilization become oppressive, mankind ought to compose a different kind of list—a list of things we could all do without, a catalogue of expendables.

Here are a few personal nominations: The Russian problem, the Algerian problem, the Middle East problem—and the middle age problem.

THE CURRENT vogue of "sick jokes" such as this one: "Papa, why is mama lying there so white and still?" "Shut up, and keep digging!"

Television Westerns in which every character needs a psychiatrist except the villain's horse.

People who greet you by patting your stomach and saying: "Still putting it on, eh?"

The word "No!" when used by women. People who have given up smoking, drinking and thinking—all at the same time.

Books about decadence in the South. Books about decadence in the suburbs.

All books over 300 pages long. Recession.

Inflation. People who wear sunglasses on cloudy days.

Fond parents who insist on showing you photos of their children.

Pet owners who buy expensive items such as gold identification tags or mink jackets for dogs.

Martinis made with gin. Martinis made with vodka.

HOSTS WHO INSIST on subjecting their guests to the joys of backyard cooking at the height of the mosquito season.

Rock 'n' roll.

Fat men who persist in wearing plaid caps three sizes too small for them.

Fat ladies who wear a bikini, although they are three sizes too large for one.

Bosses who begin a conversation, "Now look, this is harder for me than it is for you."

Bosses who brag, "I never asked a man to do anything I wouldn't do myself."

People who say out loud to elevator operators, "Guess you have your ups and downs. Heh, heh, heh."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—These were Republican Senators; not only that, but shouting Administration Republicans, so I guess it wouldn't be cricket to identify them. They were spooning bean soup in the Senate restaurant and lading comment on the vicuna-coated ethics of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

One of them became more vehement than the other. He thumped the table, squinting up a shower of bean juice, and declared:

"The President simply has to do something about this!"

One of his less vociferous colleagues asked why.

"Why?" repeated the vehement one. "How can the President ignore it—with the papers full of it—and the subject on every tongue?"

The other interrupted: "How," he asked solemnly, "is like going to hear about it if Sherman Adams doesn't tell him?"

FOR AN INDIVIDUAL who has been described as "The Power Behind the Throne," Sherm the Firm is well out in front these days. It doesn't matter how a conversation begins hereabouts, it is almost certain to get around to Adams—and increase in pungency as it goes along.

Few that I can find, even among Administration supporters, seem to be sorry for the plight of the White House major domo, which makes his case unique in Washington. Other White Houseers of the past who got caught in a wringer had their outspoken sympathizers. But the adamant Adams seems to be wenching few susceptible hearts.

It must be a manifestation of wickedness in us, but his plight seems to be causing unholy glee. As one of the above mentioned Senators remarked uncharitably:

"It couldn't have happened to a more self-righteous guy."

To understand this attitude toward the man who has been named by House investigators as accepting high hotel hospitality, and gifts, including an expensive rug and a vicuna coat, from Boston Industrialist Bernard Goldfine, you must remember that Sherm has held himself up to us as a pillar of virtue. Until all this stuff about him started coming out, it was considered lese majeste to mention him in anything but terms of awe.

NOW WASHINGTON is rocking with Adams' gags. They follow a pattern, as such gags usually do, but they appear to be unending. I had to interrupt the writing of this paragraph to listen to a gleeful Congressman who said the latest Adamic niffle circulating the House cloakrooms was:

"They pulled the gift rug from under him."

Senator Richard Neuberger, of Oregon, who has been taking quite a ribbing of late because his shapely wife modelled a scanty bathing suit at a Democratic fund-raising, said he could imagine a situation even more piquant: "My wife modelling a vicuna coat given her by Sherman Adams."

The jesting Oregonian said he felt the Indian Affairs Subcommittee, of which he is chairman, should insist that Indians have vicuna cloth wigwams, adding:

"If they make their teepees of anything un-American, such as a bison robe, they should be deported back where they came from."

In addition to his other troubles, Industrialist Goldfine has been having labeling difficulties with the Federal Trade Commission. The FTC says he mislabeled stock from one of his textile mills. This has prompted jokers to speculate aloud as to whether the vicuna coat he lavished upon Adams is all vicuna.

They are suggesting that Sherm have it assayed. (King Features Syndicate)

No. 1 Man Also Accepts Valuable Gifts

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Now wait a minute.

Let's get this Sherman Adams-Bernard Goldfine $2,000 hotel bill business in perspective. And let's be realistic.

If there's any Eisenhower administration appointee—

If there's any senator or congressman—

If there's any Civil Service employee above GS-15—

If there's any Pentagon officer above colonel or captain—

Or if there's any newspaper man in Washington—

To repeat, if there are any people in the above ranks—

Who have never had a hotel bill or an entertainment check picked up for them.

Who have never been on an all-expense paid junket, or

Who have never accepted gifts from some lobbyist or business representative with whom they were doing government business—

Let them stand up and be counted.

THIS OFFER can be made even better than that.

John T. (Diogenes) O'Rourke, editor of the Washington Daily News in the city where all these government people do business, is offering through this column to print in his paper the name of anyone who will write him, claiming never to have accepted such influence-seeking favors.

This little stunt to build up a Hound's Tooth Club public membership list has not been dreamed up to defend anything the Assistant to the President, Ex-Gov. Sherman Adams, did or did not do.

It is just to point out that Governor Adams has simply been caught doing what everyone else has always been doing.

IN THIS connection it might be mentioned that the Number

Two Man in the White House has not had a perfect example set for him by the Number One man, who has accepted various gifts of tractors and prize bulls for his farm.

And as for congressmen calling for Governor Adams' resignation, how about all those junkets all over the world that senators and

Various Industries Claim Title Of Leader For Business Boom

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Next to guessing when the nation's new business boom will be born the most popular pastime today is naming the industry that will be the proud papa.

This week spokesmen for various lines have predicted their industry is destined to lead the nation out of the recession. Here are a few of the candidates to become the latter day Moses: A farm equipment maker says sales are so much better this year that a revival in production of this machinery can set the pace, not only by paring unemployment rolls in that industry but by giving the metals companies welcome orders.

Tied in with this is the belief throughout the farm belt that the rise in farm income has both thwarted the recession in those states and set the stage for the next big push upward for the entire economy.

A spokesman for the construction industry says the mantle of new leadership clearly is falling upon its shoulders. Another, speaking for the housing segment of the industry, says that the first stirrings of better days ahead in that field show clearly that more home building is already charting the course for a general advance.

Another construction division, highway building, holds that the big spending of public money just ahead will start things rolling for everybody.

In Detroit where optimism about the sales allure of forthcoming models is always a standard commodity, the cause for and timing of the next big advance is considered to be the unveiling of 1959 models and the expected crush of buyers.

Air conditioner makers say all (that this country really needs is a series of heat waves. They and all their brethren building household appliances see the signs of a home building revival as pointing the way to good times.

A stock exchange leader, says that what's needed is a reform of the tax structure so that people would have more money to buy securities.

Some old sobersides continue to think that consumers in general will date the upturn. Let them start in large numbers to spend more and save less, and factories will run full speed again.

The trouble with consumers, however, is that you just can't tell what they're going to do or when they are going to do it.

One spur to the economy that some see coming soon is the increased pay — amounting to one billion dollars a year — that will soon be in the jeans of federal workers as a result of a coming pay boost for some and an accomplished one for others.

There are even a few observers of the passing scene who say the chemise will lead us down the recovery path. They argue that if it continues to sell in the new fall lines, it will make old wardrobes out of date.

When a year from now the chemise is out of date itself, still another outfit must be purchased.

He has been working as a weekly newspaper editor.

Trophy Goes To Fireman For Heroism

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — When Maryland firemen wind up their convention here today, Clifton Dize will head back for Crisfield clutching a symbol of his heroism.

Dize, chief of the Crisfield Volunteer Fire Department, was awarded the Colburn Trophy yesterday in one of the highlights of the second day of the Maryland State Firemen's Assn. convention.

He was cited for the outstanding act of heroism by a volunteer fireman during the last year, the rescue of two children from a flaming house. Burned in the rescue, he has since returned to duty.

The feature of today's convention windup will be the annual parade. More than 50 units participated in the march for fun and $1,500 in prize money.

The 1,100 delegates yesterday elected Howard Springer of Havre de Grace as their new president. They also re-elected Floy Heimer of Branchville, Prince Georges County, secretary and elected Ralph Small Jr., Boulevard Heights, Prince Georges, first vice president and Jack Reckner, Earleigh Heights, Anne Arundel County, second vice president.

Chinese Reds Move For Thought Control

Mass meetings, leading newspapers and magazines and the Communist radio on the Chinese mainland called for increasing study of Marxism-Leninism and the works of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung, the Communist New China News Agency reported.

At the time of the Civil war, New York City had a population of more than a million and Philadelphia had 500 thousand.

Bible Class To Purchase Church Pew

The Faithful Workers' Bible Class of Kingsley Methodist Church met recently at the church with Mrs. Marie Bowers, Mrs. Gloria Saville, Mrs. Clara Hile, Mrs. Carlene Zehrbach and Mrs. Kathleen Lippold as hostesses. The meeting was opened with the singing of the class song, "Living For Jesus." Mrs. Bowers read the scripture followed by prayer by Mrs. Thelma Wigal, teacher.

Mrs. Evelyn Hartman presided. Plans were made to purchase a church pew in memory of class members. Mrs. Georgia Menges reported on the "bakeless bake sale." The sunshine committee for June is Mrs. Betty Dean and Mrs. Gladys Sils. The class received a certificate of Sponsorship from the Girl Scouts for sponsoring Troop 17 and Brownie Troop 34. A gift was sent to Miss Mary Thomas who is at patient at Western Maryland Hospital in Hagerstown.

Following the meeting a movie on "The Training Of Teachers And Leaders" was shown, followed by serving refreshments. The next meeting will be held June 27 at Constitution Park in the form of a picnic as guests of the Young Men's Brotherhood Class. It will begin at 6 p. m.

Attending were Mrs. Thelma Wigal, Mrs. Maryland Lashley, Mrs. Marjorie Sheetz, Mrs. Sarah Shanholtz, Mrs. Lillian Everly, Mrs. Jessie Buhrman, Mrs. Nadine Fitzwater, Mrs. Evelyn Hartman, Mrs. Georgia Menges, Mrs. Shirley Metzner, Mrs. Betty Dean and Mrs. Gladys Sils.

Legion Unit Sponsoring Five Students To Girls State

Fort Cumberland Unit 13, American Legion Auxiliary, will again sponsor five girls to Girls State. The Girls State program is nationwide with all 48 states participating. Maryland's Girls State will be held in Annapolis with sessions in the State House. The girls will be housed at Carvel Hall.

Girls State is a practical application of Americanism and good citizenship. The entire program is a non-partisan, non-political attempt to teach and inculcate in the youth of America a love of God and Country.

The purpose of Girls State is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age in every constituent Department of the American Legion Auxiliary; to afford them an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens; to inform them about the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship, in order that they may understand and participate in the functioning of their government; and to help them grasp the meaning of some of the responsibilities which they must assume when they become adults.

The girls will receive instruction in Americanism, civil defense, city, county and state government. Various officials will be elected, with the junior and senior Senator going to Girls Nation in Washington D. C. in August. Qualifications for Girls State are: leadership, character, courage, honesty, scholarship, cooperativeness and physical fitness.

Girls who will attend from Cumberland are, Mary Ann Jenkins, Girls Central High; Arlene Jane Davis, St. Mary's; Rita Jane Dressman, Ursuline Academy; Patricia Ann Bittner, Fort Hill, and Bonnie Norris, Allegany.

They will leave by bus early Monday morning returning Saturday evening, June 28. Mrs. Harry Vogel, Unit Girls State Chairman, will be a counselor. She left for Annapolis this morning.

The WSCS of Bethel Methodist Church in Bedford Valley will hold a festival tomorrow at 5:30 p.m.

The Ladies Auxiliary and Canton Allegany 4, IOOF, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at IOOF Hall.

The society voted to make 12 dresses and 12 little boy outfits for under-privileged children in Jordan. This project is known as the Dorcas Project of the United Lutheran. The society will make the clothes as they are worn in Jordan and not like the styles and fashions as worn in our country.

New GS Troop Has Investiture

Girl Scouts of the newly formed Troop 1 of Holy Cross Episcopal Church were invested into scouting during a ceremony in the church a recent evening. The service was opened by the singing of "America," followed by the blessing of the troop's flags and the girl scout pins by Father William Cox who acted as chaplain.

The flag bearers and color guards were Cheryl Sibley, Vickie Baker, Linda Holtzman and Vickie Davidson. Organist was Miss Delores Rowley. The National Anthem was sung and "Fath of Our Fathers" was the recessional hymn.

A reception was held in the Parish Hall for the parents and the new girl scouts and the program was concluded with songs by the girls.

McPartland
Heads State
Postmasters

Edward J. McPartland, Lonaconing postmaster, was elected president of the Maryland Chapter, National Association of Postmasters, at its convention in Ocean City.

He succeeds Francis L. Leverone of Mt. Rainier. Other officers named include four vice presidents, James A. Grove, Frederick; Stanley S. Sentman, Port Deposit; Edward P. Harris, Know Hill; and Margaret E. Whittington, Dundalk. Re-elected secretary-treasurer was Wilma M. Berg of Mt. Hays.

McPartland has been postmaster of Lonaconing since 1951. He is a World War II veteran with service in the ETO, is married, and has an eight-year-old son. His term as president is for two years and he previously served as vice president for four years.

The convention was held at the Plinlimmon Hotel in Ocean City, and members voted to hold the 1958 session at the same place. Members also decided that the association should issue a monthly newsletter to all members, and McPartland named Alfred Huffer of Boonsboro as editor and publisher.

Among postal officials heard at the session were James J. Sullivan, Washington regional personnel manager; Malcolm A. Clark, regional operations director; John Burke, senior field service officer, and Clifton Garner, inspector in charge of all postal inspectors.

Work On Flood Control Project Advancing Rapidly

Contractors for the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project are putting in one of the best months in the history of the $18,000,000-plus project.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said work in the month ending June 25 by the George F. Hazelwood Company and the E. J. Albrecht Company will be valued at about $409,000.

It will be the best construction month on the project, he said, since the summer of 1956.

Delayed by persistent water, both contractors have been speeding the project either by working some crews around-the-clock or by the use of liberal overtime and Saturday schedules.

Work on the Baltimore Street bridge has been virtually completed, as the structure now lacks only such minor details as lighting, some painting and one railing on the West approach. The opening of the span has been delayed pending the completion of the Western Maryland Railway bridge over Wills Creek.

On Section 2 of the Potomac River phase of the work, Albrecht crews have almost completed the excavation of a new channel and are about 90 per cent done on riprapping the banks of levees where that protection is needed.

The contractor recently completed the last work on the Western Maryland-B & O interchange bridge across the C & O Canal and has notified the railroad it can begin laying track on the bridge and approaches.

Another major task, the encasement of piers of the main Western Maryland bridge across the Potomac River and the B & O Viaduct on Wills Creek has been completed.

The most noticeable progress is being made on paving the sides and bottom of Wills Creek.

Mental Exam Ordered For Delinquent, 11

Magistrate Delays Decision In Case Of Boy Safe-cracker

An 11-year-old local boy who has been involved in a number of breaking and enterings in Cumberland—including a safe-cracking—was given a hearing yesterday in Juvenile Court, but disposition was withheld pending additional mental examinations.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson said he would withhold decision in the case until the boy could be examined and treated at Springfield State Hospital.

The boy and his 10-year-old brother were apprehended Sunday night by local police in connection with several breaking and entering cases.

Magistrate Anderson ordered the brother to be examined by the County Mental Hygiene Clinic.

The older boy was given a hearing earlier this month in Juvenile Court after he admitted opening a safe at Hare's Store on North Mechanic Street. He was given a mental examination by a local physician, but was released.

The two brothers admitted to police Sunday night that they broke into the Cumberland Moose Home and the Historical Society House on Washington Street.

Police said five pints of liquor and $7 in cash were taken from the Moose home, and several articles were taken from the Historical Society. These articles were found later, police said.

The boys implicated another youth when questioned Sunday night, but said yesterday at the hearing that the third boy did not have anything to do with the breaking and enterings. Juvenile Court authorities verified this.

Two Slabtown Youths Guilty Of Contributing

Two Slabtown youths were found guilty in Juvenile Court yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old boy.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson fined Paul F. Izzett $25 and gave Elmer L. Bridges a six-month term in the Maryland House of Correction. The jail sentence was suspended and Bridges placed on probation by Magistrate Anderson.

The three were arrested last week for unauthorized use of a truck around a coal mine near Frostburg. The third youth, receiving a hearing earlier in the week, was found guilty and given a warning.

CRANE CRUSHES CARS—Seven cars were sliced when the 125-foot high crane toppled over at Burlington, Ont. The crane was lifting a heavy load of steel girders when the weight toppled the tractor at its base. The crane landed on 12 parked cars but sliced only seven, and the falling girders missed construction workers by only a few feet. Only the crane operator was injured with minor facial cuts.

Man Wants Fee For Teaching Girl To Strip

DETROIT — (UPI) — Harold Fink wants $1,417.83 for teaching a buxom strip tease dancer how to undress.

Fink, 32, claimed in his suit filed in the Common Pleas Court of Judge Harry J. Dinceman Jr., that he taught Mrs. Marie Tappen, 20, all she knows about her art and supplied $667.83 worth of the clothes she takes off as well. He said he figures his instruction was worth an additional $750.

Mrs. Tappen, whose stage name is Vickie, said she met Fink when he was a clerk and she was an elevator operator in the same building. "Our relationship is social, rather than business," she said. "He's just angry because I broke up with him."

Police Claim Theft At Bank Not A Robbery

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Two men pulled off a bank robbery yesterday that wasn't a bank robbery.

Entering the Chase Manhattan Bank on lower Broadway, they waited until a teller turned his back. Then one of the men reached over the counter, grabbed a package containing $2,643, and with his accomplice, ran from the bank.

Police said that since no force or threat of force was used, the crime was not a bank robbery, but grand larceny.

Cumberland Girl Has Star Role In Theater

A starring role in the Gateway Summer Theater at Gallatinburg, Tenn., is being played by Miss Elizabeth J. Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, 23 North Waverly Terrace.

A graduate of Fort Hill High School, Miss Ferguson was formerly employed as a secretary at the Board of Education here. She studied during the past year at the Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York City, and has always been interested in dramatics and dancing.

ELIZABETH FERGUSON

She studied dancing here at the Dixon Dance Studio, later attended the Ballet Preparatory of New York City and taught ballet at the Dixon Studio here for a time. Well known as a talented entertainer, she has appeared at local clubs and in a number of local reviews, and also appeared on song and dance acts for the Pittsburgh area television audiences.

According to her father, a member of the faculty at Fort Hill High School, the opening play at the Gateway Summer Theater is the Broadway hit, "Bus Stop." Other plays to be presented this summer in which Miss Ferguson will take part include "A Streetcar Named Desire," "Come Back Little Sheba," "Mouse Trap," and "Outward Bound."

Underwood To Review Guard Unit

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP)—The 150th Armored Cavalry Regiment of the West Virginia Army National Guard was all dressed up for a review parade today before its commander in chief, Gov. Cecil H. Underwood.

The 150th welcomed the governor's party, which was scheduled to arrive by air, with a luncheon.

The party was to tour training areas of the citizen-soldiers in summer encampment. First stop was the 150th exercise on tear drop firing, with observation stated of communications training and a ride in a M-41 tank scheduled for Underwood as the special guest of the 3rd Battalion of Bluefield.

Underwood, State Adj. Gen. William E. Blake and Maj. Gen. John L. Ryan Jr., commanding general of the U. S. Armored Center here, were to review the 150th.

The governor was to present six marksmanship trophies to winning units in the regiment, with the featured awards the 54-year-old Davis Cup, Francis Guy Ash Trophy and the William E. Eubank Memorial Trophy.

Gov. and Mrs. Underwood will be honored guests at the annual dinner of the 150th officers' organization tonight.

The governor's party is scheduled to fly to Camp Breckinridge, 120 miles west of here, tomorrow to visit about 1,000 National Guardsmen from West Virginia in training there.

Underwood will present the Okey L. Patton Cup and Eisenhower Trophy to outstanding trainees at Camp Breckinridge, turn to Charleston, W. Va., to the party is scheduled to re-morrow afternoon.

Others in the governor's party included West Virginia Secretary of State Helen Holt, several industrialists from the state and representatives of the press and other news media.

City's Vote Made Official

Cumberland's general election vote is official. The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors completed the canvass yesterday.

Four mistakes were found in totals but did not affect the positions of candidates.

The official totals after the canvass was completed by the board, which includes Earl E. Manges, Victor M. Hebb and Matthew J. Mullaney, were as follows:

BOND REFERENDUM
Against 1,063
For 1,273

MAYOR
J. Edwin Keech 5,383
Roy W. Eves 2,458

CITY COUNCIL
Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder 5,377
John J. Long 4,469
Philmore F. Fleming 4,224
G. Ray Light 3,531
George H. Tederick 3,217
William V. Keegan 2,493
Keith T. Sisk 1,453
William H. Buchholz 1,434

The totals changed as a result of the errors in addition found by the Election Board affected the totals of Fleming, Light, Keegan and Buchholz. Fleming gained 100 votes when it was discovered that he received 352, not 252, in Ward 3, Precincts 1 and 3. Light, on the other hand, lost 100 votes when it was revealed that he polled 191 instead of 291 in Ward 2, Precincts 1 and 2. Keegan gained two votes when the canvassers found he received 185 instead of 183 in Ward 6, Precincts 3 and 4. Buchholz lost three votes because he got 166, not 169, in Ward 1, Precincts 1 and 4.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ulery certified the election of Keech.

Historian Relates Of First Revival

DETROIT (AP)—Historian Bernard Weisberger of Wayne University, says the beginning of American revival meetings, of which Billy Graham is the leading contemporary exponent, goes back 158 years.

In a new book, "They Gathered At The River," Weisberger says the first such meeting in this country was in the summer of 1800 on the banks of the Gasper River, Ky.

Dawson Charged In Hatchet Case

Malicious assault in a hatchet attack Tuesday night upon Leona Rawlings, 38, of Elk Garden, has been charged against Harry Dawson, 44, also of Elk Garden.

Sheriff Walter Mott of Mineral County said Dawson will be given a preliminary hearing pending the outcome of the woman's injuries.

She is still a patient in Garrett County Hospital, Oakland, where hospital authorities last night listed her condition as "fair."

She sustained wounds of the head, shoulder and back.

Dawson was arrested late Tuesday night at his home and is being held in Mineral County Jail in Keyser.

The victim was assaulted about 4:30 p. m. Tuesday in Elk Garden.

Mine Workers' strict 17 Protests Ruling On Attorneys In Contested Compensation Cases

CHARLESTON (AP) — United Mine Workers District 17 has protested to the West Virginia State Bar over a ruling that it believes requires workers in contested compensation cases to hire attorneys.

District 17 President R. O. Lewis wrote State Bar President Jackson N. Huddleston that the ruling would work against the "advancement of the administration of justice" and asked that alternatives to its consequences be recommended.

Lewis said that either the Workmen's Compensation Commission or the employers be made responsible for attorney fees "in the same manner they are now held liable for doctor or hospital bills."

The letter to the State Bar president was provoked by an injunction issued April 17 by Judge Charles L. Garvin Jr. of the 12th Judicial Circuit. Lewis explained that the injunction restrained Emmett J. Earley, a non-lawyer, from representing injured members of the Chemical and Atomic Workers of America before the trial examiners of the compensation commission.

The State Bar sought the ruling to stop this representation as the unauthorized practice of law. The United Mine Workers and other unions have provided for many years just such representation for their members in contested compensation cases.

The procedure has been recognized by the compensation commission. It has not, to date, made the change which Lewis believes the ruling implies is necessary.

Lewis protested in his letter that "the ultimate result of this ruling will either make it necessary for a claimant... to employ an attorney, thereby reducing by a considerable amount the already too small award, or make it necessary for the unions to employ at considerable expense attorneys to continue to provide a free service."

He said this service to the injured workers had been to the satisfaction of everyone except the State Bar.

The letter to Huddleston argued that attorney fees could not be afforded by the workers because "compensation awards... are at the most barely sufficient to provide by the basic necessities of life."

Under the West Virginia State Workmen's Compensation Act, medical care and a weekly income are provided for covered workers with money paid in by employers. The weekly awards run from a minimum of $18 to a maximum of $33, depending upon the earnings of the worker.

Compensation Commissioner George S. Sharp is empowered to withhold up to 25 per cent of an award to pay legal counsel hired by the injured.

Lewis objected that workers are wrongfully made to defend themselves in contested cases. He argued:

"An injured individual whose compensation claim is contested by his employer must fight his claim through the various stages of procedure established by statute. If the individual wins the case, it is evident that the employer's action in contesting the case was wrong, and because the employer was wrong, the injured claimant is automatically penalized a specified amount of the award, to which he has been adjudged legally entitled, to pay the attorney made necessary by the ill-advised action of the employer."

Lewis said the action of the State Bar was taken "hastily and without due consideration of the result." But he added that the Bar was only trying to accomplish the "objectives for which it was established" and urged that it "support legislation that will stop the objectionable practices by removing the need... and do it without working a serious economic hardship upon the workers."

Lewis pointed out that his district and other union organizations within the state have been making use of field representatives to appear for member claimants in contested compensation cases.

"It's been a free service provided by the district."

Board Lacks Authority In License Case

Liquor Unit Does Approve Transfer Of Local Permit

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners today issued an opinion in which it decided the board had no authority to transfer the license of the Cumberland Liquor Store, Inc., at 419 Henderson Avenue to new licensees.

Application had been made by Martin Schwartz, Jean W. Schwartz and Leonard Cody for transfer of the license held in the names of Justin J. Grabenstein, Mary E. Carolan and Francis H. Schriyer.

Legal Questions — When the application was considered at Tuesday's meeting of the board, it developed there were a number of legal questions unsolved and Mary E. Carolan, daughter of Justin J. Grabenstein, appeared with her attorney to object to the transfer.

Milton Gerson, attorney for Mrs. Carolan, said that the application was faulty in that the landlords of the property had not signed the application as required by board regulations.

The three applicants were represented by Clarence Lippel, attorney, who stated that Grabenstein had made an agreement with his clients for the sale of the business to them. Grabenstein had stated he was the majority stockholder in the company. Grabenstein did not appear at the board hearing Tuesday.

The opinion of the board was signed by Stanley O. Hamilton, chairman, and Howard W. Vandegrift and Estel C. Kelley, board members.

Note Controversy

The opinion stated: "The board heard the application June 17 and after consideration has concluded, from the statements of the licensees, that a controversy had developed among them concerning the transfer of the license. The licensees have not agreed among themselves as to the transfer of the license."

"This represents a legal question as to who has the rights under the license and it is not proper for the board to decide this issue."

"In view of the failure of the licensees to agree as to the transfer of this license, the board is of the opinion that it has no authority to approve the transfer."

Nine Qualify For Utility's Veteran Club

Nine employees of the Potomac Edison Company were initiated into the firm's Quarter Century Club at the annual dinner meeting yesterday in Hagerstown.

More than 300 active and retired Potomac Edison employees attended the program, which featured the awarding of service pins to employees who had completed another five years with the utility organization.

Forty-year emblems were awarded to Isaac R. Likens, Edward W. Kemmet, Charles J. Freeland, Arthur M. Blitner, Thomas H. Matthews, James W. Andrews and Margaret M. Hepburn of Loudoun. This group was presented engraved watches in addition to the service emblems.

Thirty-five-year awards were presented to James B. Wigger Jr. and Charles W. Heath, while those receiving 20-year emblems included James M. Nicholson, Harry A. Willson, Calvin W. Hinkle and Thomas L. Gibson.

D. E. Stultz, president of the company, praised the spirit of the veteran employees, pointing out that the progress of the firm was due in large part to the contribution made by each individual.

Playgrounds Open Monday

The city's 15 supervised playgrounds open Monday and Recreation Director C. Eugene Mason says everything is in readiness for the several thousand expected the first day.

Registration will begin at 10 a. m. and will be in charge of the 25-member staff which will be appointed Monday to administer the nine-week program.

Mason said basic equipment, such as swings and slides, has been placed on the grounds and that small equipment will go out today.

The maintenance staff of the department has been busy for several days cutting grass and weeding from the playgrounds.

The Recreation Department staff, Mason said, is working out a schedule for the main events of the playground season. They will include the usual talent show, queen's contest, fishing rodeo and the playground picnic.

Grounds used will be the same as last year, when over 3,000 children registered for the program. It will be the last year for the present Lamont Street and East Side playgrounds, which will be relocated as a result of the Thruway program.

County Work On Driveway Areas Aired

Board Agrees No Work On Private Land In Future

The paving of one private driveway and repairs to another on Hazen Road by the Allegany County Roads Department was the subject of further discussion at today's meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

On Tuesday, Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson reported that he had been told the work had been done while the Hazen Road was being oiled and chipped recently. Commissioner James Orr contacted the department and said the department had told him the work was authorized by J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

Chapman is on vacation and could not be contacted by Orr. Today, the board had Harry Skelly, assistant roads supervisor, at the meeting to learn further details. Wilkinson inquired as to the work done on private driveways and Skelly listed the two as being at the Cessna and Clauson residences. The work done on the driveways was to be paid for by the two property owners.

Wilkinson said Chapman had ignored requests for road work during the past winter during the heavy snows and asked Skelly what procedure he followed in his work for the department. Skelly said that Chapman was his boss and "I do what I am ordered to do."

Wilkinson took issue with this and said that Skelly was under the jurisdiction of the county commissioners. Skelly said he understood the policy of the board was that no individual commissioner could order work done, but that it had to be by a majority vote of at least two members of the board.

Skelly said he was under the jurisdiction of Chapman and that the roads supervisor in turn was under jurisdiction of the board. Skelly also told Commissioner Wilkinson that during the 1948 to 1950 period the former roads supervisor, John J. Smith, of Mt. Savage, had county road mechanics do work on Smith privately-owned truck. Smith held the post while Wilkinson was on the board.

Commissioner Wilkinson became vehement in his comments on the way Chapman operated the department and Commissioner Orr cautioned him "not to cuss." Wilkinson told Orr he would do what he wanted.

The entire squabble lasted only a short time with Skelly, Orr and Wilkinson "agreeing" that no work be done on any private property in the future.

Two Fire Drills Planned Monthly By Pike Group

The Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company will hold the first of two fire drills Sunday morning, according to Chief Melvin DeHaven, who said the second will be conducted Monday at 6:30 p. m.

The company decided to hold two fire drills following discussion at a recent meeting. Chief DeHaven explained that the procedure was adopted to raise the efficiency of the unit.

One of the monthly drills will be held on a Sunday, while the second will take place on the meeting night of the fire company. The Baltimore Pike Company will meet Monday at 8:30 p. m. at the fire hall.

Chief DeHaven said the company is conducting its annual appeal for funds, and asks the residents of the area served to contribute as generously as possible.

GRADUATES — John Freeman Chisholm Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Chisholm, 106 Altamont Terrace, received a bachelor of science degree in business administration June 2 at West Virginia University. A 1953 graduate of Fort Hill High School, he is employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. At college he majored in management and was a member of the Society for the Advancement of Management.

County Share Of State Tax Receipts Dips

Four Revenue Checks Sent Board; Liquor Sale Shares Listed

Four checks were received today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, three from the state comptroller's office, and one from the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

The biggest check was for $165,744.32 as the county's allotment from state income taxes. This is $34,255.68 below the estimate made by the commissioners when they set up their current budget last year.

The commissioners said the decrease in the estimated revenue from state income taxes will be reflected in a drop in the anticipated surplus at the end of the fiscal year on June 30 by $34,255.68.

Gasoline tax money allotted to the county from the state comptroller's office amounted to $40,525.31, which was said to be about normal.

The liquor board check totaled $68,765 and of this amount the county's share will be $38,543.50. But the county has to pay $20,000 for the operation of the liquor board during the fiscal year.

A total of $23,311.50 was distributed among the various incorporated communities. The City of Cumberland gets $17,185.50; Frostburg, $4,106; Lonaconing, $1,195; Westport, $1,580; Barton, $947; and Midland, $298. Each community gets half of the amount of liquor license fees paid by establishments within its jurisdiction.

The anticipated revenue from liquor fees by the county was $23,000.

The fourth check, from the state, was for $756.25 for the county's share of franchise taxes.

Bus Schedule For Day Camp Listed

The bus schedule for youths planning to attend the Day Camp at Central YMCA has been announced. James H. Fortner, physical education director.

The bus will leave from Frostburg at 8:15 a. m. daily, pick up campers at Clarysville at 8:25 a. m. and then make any stops that are necessary along the highway through LaVale. The camp will start daily at 9 a. m., Fortner said.

Lawyers Hit By Henderson On 'Fifth' Use

Bar Association Told Advice Given Clients Unethical

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A former Maryland circuit court judge last night criticized lawyers who advise their clients to plead the Fifth Amendment before congressional committees.

George Henderson, of Cumberland, recently retired chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, said there is a difference between a lawyer who defends an accused person he thinks is guilty and one who advises a client in "lawless conduct."

Henderson addressed the 63rd annual convention of the Maryland Bar Assn., which opened yesterday.

Hear Discussion — Today the delegates heard a panel discussion on various views of trial judges and trial lawyers. G. C. A. Anderson, association president will speak tonight on the use of impartial expert testimony in trials.

Henderson said the duty of a lawyer to defend a client is very different "from advising a client in lawless conduct."

"The McClellan committee has laid bare instances where union officials accused of looting union funds were being represented and advised to plead the Fifth Amendment by lawyers retained by the union."

"Such counsel clearly had a primary duty to the union as a whole and to its members, and not to an accused officer. It requires no reading of the canon of ethics to prove that such a course of action is wrong."

Honest Duty

"In years gone by, the impression that certain very able lawyers were at the beck and call of powerful corporation officials... did much harm to the reputation of our profession. It is no less true now when powerful unions, rather than corporations, are being advised in lawlessness."

Henderson said that, as lawyers and officers of courts of justice, "we have a duty to see that all of us conduct ourselves with honesty and propriety."

Anderson, a Baltimore attorney, called for committee reports when the convention convened yesterday.

One report called for a stronger probation system for juvenile offenders in Maryland. The committee proposed that the probation services be dispensed through the eight judicial circuits rather than each county and that state funds be used where possible.

Not Enough Aides — The committee, headed by Judge Reuben Oppenheimer of the Baltimore City Supreme Bench, noted that most of Maryland's 20 juvenile courts have either part-time or no probation officers.

Another report suggested that Maryland law school students be required to take courses giving them a more practical knowledge of law.

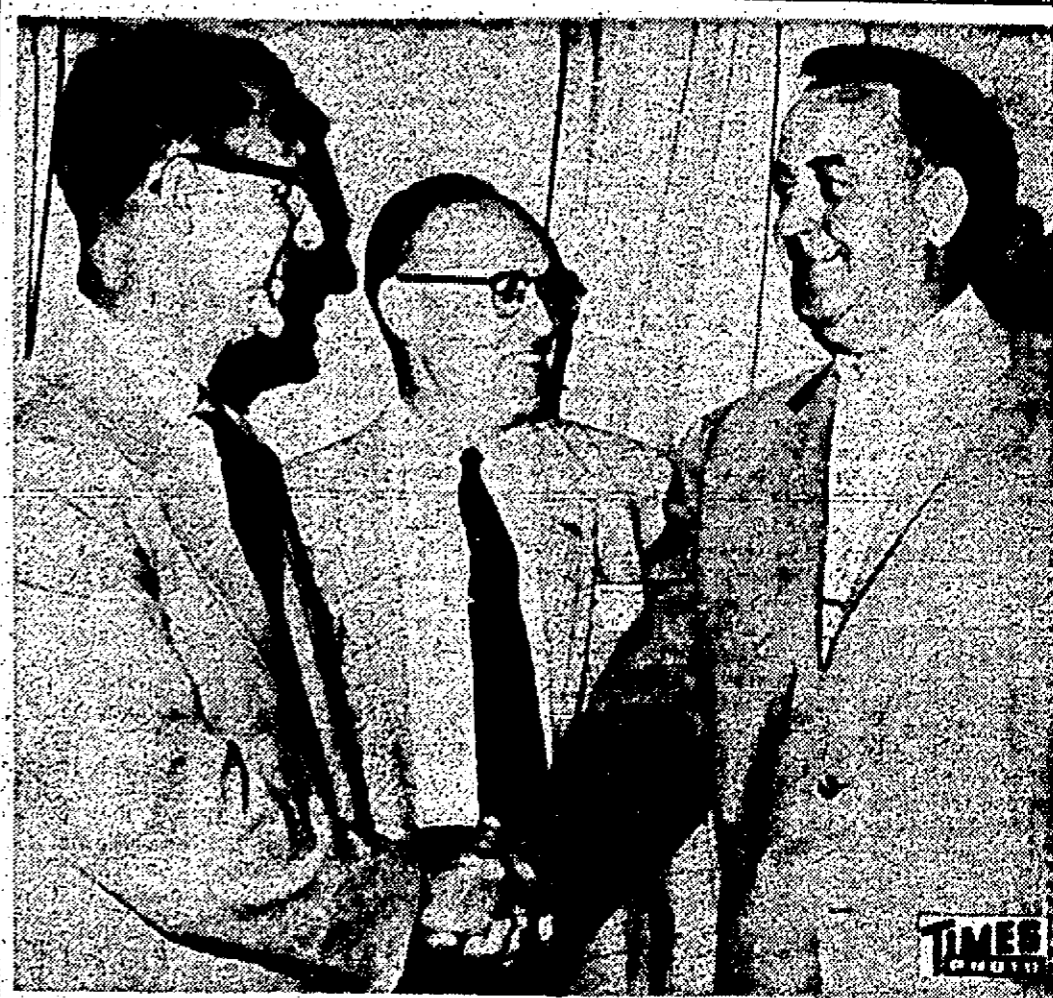

One committee proposed creation of a central State-wide register for birth and death records.

The prospect of a possible nuclear attack, wiping out many State government officials produced another committee report. It called on the 1959 General Assembly to insure the continuity of government in the event of such an attack.

The convention also was expected to consider means of curtailing the workload of the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Training To End

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — More than 500 members of the West Virginia Air National Guard's 130th Air Resupply Group wind up their two weeks of summer field training here this weekend.

Leader State Demo Group To Be Named

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland Democratic leaders will confer next week to decide when the party's State Central Committee will meet.

The party leaders also must determine who will be chosen as chairman of the central committee.

The General Assembly, in changing the election laws last year, required that the committee select its own chairman instead of the past policy of having delegates to the State convention do the job.

No matter when the party bosses decide the committee will convene, it will be a rare meeting. The committee has averaged fewer than two plenary sessions per decade. The last one was held in 1956, when it chose a new candidate for the U. S. Senate to replace the then ailing Millard E. Tydings.

After a bitter fight, the nomination went to George P. Mahoney.

The big problem before Democratic leaders now is how to conduct another plenary session without dimming the glow of the party's new-found harmony.

There is little doubt that J. Millard Tawes, Democratic candidate for governor, will have a big say about who the new chairman will be. But before the session convenes, Tawes will want to make sure his selection will not sound a discordant note in the party.

Moose Conclave Opens In City

Delegates to the Maryland and Border States Moose Association began arriving today for the convention which gets underway tonight.

Moose lodges from Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia and Pennsylvania will be represented. The Fort Cumberland Hotel is convention headquarters and registrations are being held in the lobby.

The convention will end Sunday. The Women of the Moose, the auxiliary unit, will hold their sessions at the home of Cumberland Lodge 271, LOOM, which is host for the event.

Kelly Wage Talks Start

Negotiations on wages between Local 26, United Rubber workers, and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company have been recessed until June 30, according to A. E. Johnson, union president.

He said the Local 26 wage negotiating committee held preliminary meetings Wednesday and yesterday with negotiators for the tire company.

William Kuchner, national URWA representative, attended yesterday's meeting.

The union did not disclose details of the wage program it is asking under a wage reopening clause in the contract which runs until May 1, 1959.

Johnson said the Rubber Workers are currently in wage negotiations with the industry's Big Four.

Local 26 represents over 1,600 hourly-paid workers at the Kelly-Springfield Tire plant. Union negotiators are between them: Kenneth Whitney, treasurer and Chester E. Moody, secretary. Officers elected by the Civinettes, the ladies auxiliary unit, were also installed.

George Firm Gives Lowest Armory Bid

The City of Cumberland closed out titles yesterday for approximately six acres of land for the new National Guard Armory proposed for construction by the Military Department of Maryland in Ridgedale Addition.

At the same time, the Department of Public Improvements opened the bids for the Armory. City Attorney Thomas B. Finan represented the city at the land transaction and Clayton Dietrich, assistant attorney general, represented the state. The closing out of titles took place in the offices of Maryland Title Guaranty Company, Baltimore.

Finan said it was necessary to complete the matter before July 1 to enable the state to get federal funds for the project in the amount of $185,000. The city has closed several unnamed streets and commissioners will meet in the area at 10:30 a. m. June 30 to assess any damages caused by the closing.

Cost of the modern Armory is expected to be over $400,000. Finan said title insurance amounting to $450,000 had been taken out.

George Construction Company, this city, made the apparent low base bid of $340,000 for construction of the Armory.

The bids, all from local firms, included $346,069 from the John I. Vandegrift Company and $348,879 from the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company.

James P. O'Donnell, director of the Department of Public Improvements, said the above are all base bids and that the total costs may be affected by a number of alternates requested by the department.

He said the bids have been turned over to the architects and engineers for tabulation and report early next week.

The new armory will be located in the city's Ridgedale Addition in an undeveloped area above Greene Street, atop Dingle Hill. The site is being furnished by the city, which is in the process of completing necessary legal steps in connection with the project.

Plans for the building have been prepared by S. Russ Minter, local architect, and call for a 140 by 150 foot brick and concrete building.

Provisions have been made for a large drill area on the site. The armory itself will provide space for general offices, classrooms, locker rooms, rifle range and similar facilities on two stories.

Engineering work on the armory have been completed by Egil and Gompf, Inc., and J. L. Faisant and Associates.

No plans have been announced for the disposition of the present armory on South Centre Street.

Chief Urges Bicycle Care

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn today urged young bicycle riders to have their cycles checked before beginning activities during the summer vacation period.

Stressing the importance of bicycle maintenance, safety and upkeep, Chief Flynn said riding among school-age boys and girls increases during the summer, thus adding to the hazards of city traffic.

"Young bike riders should use the care and common sense in riding in traffic," he said. "Conventional hand signals should be used for turns or stopping, and traffic signals obeyed. But before children use cycles in traffic, they should make sure their horns, lights and brakes are in the best operating condition. And if a brake needs adjustment, it delegates to a recent URWA policy committee meeting."

West Virginians Celebrate 95th Anniversary Today

CHARLESTON (AP) — President Lincoln signed the bill making West Virginia a state on Dec. 20, 1862, and presented it to Congressman Jacob Blair of Parkersburg as a New Year's gift.

Thus, West Virginians celebrated their 95th birthday today, on the anniversary of the date on which the new state actually came into being.

State Historian Kyle McCornick related that West Virginia is the only state founded upon the moral principles of opposition to slavery and loyalty to the Union.

"West Virginia Week" Gov. Underwood had proclaimed this week as "West Virginia Week" and the birthday was observed as legal holiday at the capitol.

Only the transportation division of the Public Service Commission, and the State Motor Vehicles Department, were active at the statehouse today, although the building remained open to accommodate tourists and other visitors with guides on duty.

The act of Congress which made West Virginia a state took effect on June 20, 1863.

McCornick, who heads the State Department of Archives and History, included the following among the many conditions which led to the formation of West Virginia:

Separation from east Virginia by the Allegheny Mountains, difference in background of the citizens, difference in economic interests, commercial competition between

Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md., through railway development and the neglect of the western counties in schools, roads and public institutions.

The historian also mentioned pressure by the Abraham Lincoln administration in Washington and military control by the federal government during the tension before the Civil War.

Five Counties Created Five counties have been created since the formation of the state — Summers, Mineral, Grant, Lincoln and Mingo.

Jefferson and Berkeley counties in the Eastern Panhandle contested their being lawfully in West Virginia after the Civil War, but the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that they properly belonged in the new state.

In Washington today, Sen. John D. Hobbitt (R-W.Va.) pointed out to the nation's highest legislative body that the Mountaineers' feeling for freedom is exemplified in their state's motto, "Montani Semper Liberi."

Hobbitt added: "From our mountainous country have come many leaders in our national life and on this 95th birthday all West Virginians may feel proud of their state heritage."

The dates of Charleston's first Rhododendron Festival coincided with the anniversary of statehood. The two-day festival will include selection of a "Miss West Virginia" to represent the state in next month's beauty pageant at Long Beach, Calif., and a pageant scheduled in the fountain area of the State Capitol grounds.

Credit Union Holds Dinner

The annual dinner meeting of the Allegany County Maryland Teachers' Federal Credit Union was held recently at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Present were: Joseph Haugen, Paul Footen, Rosalie C. Shobe, Gertrude Williams, Ruth Hanson, Theresa Hasbeck, Phyllis Bowlers, Kathryn Laughlin, Nellie Isaac, Grace Brady, Calvin Rankin, Margaret King, Mildred DeMoss, Margaret Doak, Samuel Lisanti, Orpha Clark, James Fraeshorn, Samantha Lucas, John Manley and Margaret O. Weakland.

Footen, treasurer, reported that on May 31 the organization had 244 members, share balances of $57,587.68, loan balances of $33,303.25 and $10,990.54 cash in the bank. The statement, he said, represents a commendable growth.

For the past several months the credit union has maintained office hours at the B. & O. Credit Union Office on Harrison Street.

After Saturday and during July and August, members may contact Footen at Barton, or any director for services.

The next regular meeting will be held September 10 at the Board of Education office.

Guest Of Honor Fails To Arrive

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Thirteen women sat around a gilded and flower-bedecked table in a New York restaurant last night, awaiting the arrival of the guest of honor. But the friend they were expecting was fated never to show up.

The 14th guest — Mrs. Anne Visconti, 64, — lay dead in her apartment in Brooklyn, apparently of a heart attack. The superintendent of the building, after receiving a phone call from the alarmed diners, entered her house with police and found her body lying across a bed. She evidently had begun to dress for the party — and was stricken and lay down to rest. The dinner was being tendered her by co-workers on the eve of her scheduled retirement from 28 years service as an employee of the American Cable and Radio Co.

The cuckoo and the cowbird lay their eggs in the nests of other birds.

West Virginia Compensation Bills Ready

Legislature Special Session To Convene For Bills Discussion

CHARLESTON (AP) — The two bills which will be the main purpose of a special session of the Legislature convening next Monday are now ready for introduction.

They were drafted by the legal staff of the Department of Employment Security and presented to Gov. Underwood for his approval. The governor made copies available to newsmen at his news conference Thursday.

One bill simply authorizes Employment Security Director Henry L. Ash to enter into the agreement with the federal government which is necessary if West Virginia is to take advantage of the Temporary Unemployment Compensation Act passed by Congress this month.

Additional Benefits The act provides for additional unemployment benefits, with federal financing, for jobless persons who have exhausted their eligibility under state law since June 30 last year.

For West Virginia, the act would temporarily extend the maximum period for drawing benefits from 24 weeks to 36 weeks. The additional 12 weeks of benefits could be drawn only for unemployment in the period after the agreement with the federal government went into effect.

The other bill revises the escalator clause in the law dealing with the state unemployment compensation fund. The balance in which was down to 52 million dollars at the end of last week.

Under present law, the maximum contribution rate for employers supporting the fund must be put into effect once the balance at the end of any quarter is below 50 million dollars. Many employers already are paying the maximum rate of 2.7 per cent of individual wages up to $3,000 a year, but many others enjoy merit ratings at various levels all the way down to zero.

Gradual Rate Step-Up The bill prepared for submission to the Legislature calls for a more gradual step-up in rates.

The first advance in rates would come after the balance fell below 60 million. Each five million dollars of further decline would bring another step-up.

For the period through the second calendar quarter of next year, the suspension of all merit ratings—which now takes place below 50 million — would not come until after the fund had fallen below 35 million. After the second quarter of 1959, the level calling for maximum rates for all would be below 40 million.

The suspension of merit ratings would be lifted on Jan. 1 following the year in which the fund again has climbed back above 45 million and remained there. However, if the suspension was made when the fund was below 35 million, the suspension would be superseded when the fund reached and remained above 40 million.

House Passes Weather Bill

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The House has voted to do something about the weather.

It passed by voice vote and returned to the Senate yesterday a bill to let the National Science Foundation conduct "study, research and evaluation" of efforts to control floods, drought, hail, lightning, fog, tornadoes, hurricanes and other weather phenomena.

The Senate had passed the bill earlier in differing form, and the differences now are expected to be reconciled.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee which recommended the measure, said its "prime purpose" is to combat fire hazard in the national forests.

The proposed new weather control program is an outgrowth of activities by an advisory committee on weather control, which went out of existence last Dec. 31.

Circuit Court Orders Kier Be Executed

Baltimore Handyman Convicted Of Slaying 49-Year-Old Woman

FREDERICK (AP) — The Frederick County Circuit Court today ordered Carl Daniel Kier, 22-year-old Baltimore Negro handyman, to be executed during the week beginning Monday, July 28, for the murder of Mrs. John H. Bopst, 49.

Mrs. Bopst was found slain in her home in a fashionable section of Baltimore County near Towson on June 12, 1956.

Today's order signed by Chief Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer and Associate Judge Thomas M. Anderson directed the warden of the Maryland Penitentiary to carry out the execution in the gas chamber.

Kier was tried here last Oct. 8 and convicted of first degree murder.

His attorneys appealed the death sentence to the State Court of Appeals but the lower court decision was affirmed.

The conviction here was the second time such a verdict had been returned against Kier. He was first found guilty of the murder by the Baltimore County Circuit Court and sentenced to die.

Elkins Presents Certificates At Session Windup

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Certificates and pins were awarded to Maryland homemakers today by Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland.

This was the final full day of activities for some 800 women attending the 32nd annual Rural Women's Short Course.

Certificates went to women in the fourth year group and pins to those in the eight year group. The awards sessions came at the end of a week of special courses in homemaking, hobbies and current affairs.

Earlier in the day, the women were addressed by Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, Washington.

Mt. Savage Woman Honored At AOH Auxiliary Conclave

W. Virginia Miscellany

By The Associated Press
Mountain State miscellany:
Miss Gracie M. Moore, director of nursing services at Man Memorial Hospital, has been named president of the West Virginia League for Nursing to serve out the unexpired term of Mrs. Mary S. Turner.

Senate Bill 212 requires persons who have not paid any personal property taxes for at least five years to be back-taxed for five years before they can receive their 1958-59 fiscal year vehicle license plates. Kanawha County Sheriff T. H. McGovern has cited two examples of the statute at work which dug into the pocketbooks of Charleston area individuals.

One man with a current personal property tax assessment of $2.86 had to pay $33.41 to get clear of the law. Another who was assessed $13.35 for the present year wound up forking over $130.89.

A hearing on the Campus Drive paving project in the West Virginia University vicinity of Morgantown probably will be held Monday. Judge Don J. Eddy of Monongalia County Circuit Court postponed a hearing scheduled this week at the request of an attorney for the Alpha Theta House Corp.

Alpha Theta and other residents along Campus Drive are seeking a permanent injunction against the city to block pavement of the Fourth Ward street — on the contention that the cost would be excessive.

The next regular session of the Raleigh County Court will hear a committee report on behalf of proposed costs of a fire station and fire equipment for the community of Rhodell near Beckley.

Clarksburg's city council has accepted the low bid of $42,368 by Permanent Builders, Inc., for construction of a storm drainage system on Chestnut Street. Work is expected to begin soon on the project, and the State Road Commission has agreed to pave the street after the sewer system is completed.

The regional director of the Small Business Administration, which headquarters in Richmond, Va., said that his agency has 133 loans totaling $3,600,000 outstanding in West Virginia. Clarence P. Moore explained that his office is working overtime to process the largest loan application load in its history. Moore said most of the requests are for funds to modernize and expand small industries and to improve working capital positions.

Harold L. Noe, a native of Nebraska, has replaced Clinton Looney as pastor of the Boulevard Church of Christ in Charleston. Mr. Noe had been in Maryville, Tenn., while Mr. Looney accepted a pastorate in Vansant, Va.

The Morgantown Kiwanis Club donated $100 to pay the expenses of Donald Roderick, manager of the Sundale Rest Home, for a trip to the second annual short course on organization and administration of homes for the aging scheduled next Thursday through June 28 at Killsburg, Pa.

Assessment Unchanged

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The 1958 assessed valuation of the Western Maryland Railway's West Virginia property was set by the Board of Public Works yesterday at 12½ million dollars, the same as the 1957 figure which the railroad has taken to court on appeal.

The figure adopted by the board represented a cut of a half million dollars from the valuation recommended to the board by the Tax Department.

The board's 1957 assessment of Western Maryland's property has been appealed by the railroad to the Circuit Court of Mineral County, the county in which the largest share of the railroad's West Virginia property is located.

The railroad also appealed to that court from assessed valuations of 13 million dollars for 1955 and 15 million dollars for 1956.

The Circuit Court reduced the figures to 9½ million for each year, but the board in turn appealed to the State Supreme Court, which agreed last week to review the case.

Reduction of the Western Maryland valuation to last year's figure corresponded with action taken by the board the previous day as to three other railroads—the Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western and The Virginian.

The board completed Thursday three days of work on setting the 1958 assessed valuations of Class III and IV properties of public utilities in the state.

Mineral Area GOP Women Picnic July 2 At Keyser Park

KEYSER—Plans for the GOP "Good Neighbor" picnic to be held at the pool park Wednesday, July 2, were announced by Mrs. Harold J. Snyder, president, and Mrs. Madlyn Bazzle, program chairman, of Mineral County Chapter, West Virginia Republican Women's Clubs, which will sponsor the affair.

An old-time family outing will start at 6 p. m., followed by entertainment and speeches. Sen. Chapman Revercomb will deliver the principal address of the program which will be studied with political leaders from national and state level.

Among those in attendance will be State Chairman Daniel Leachery; Mrs. Frederick Backer of Fairmont; president of WVFWC, Mrs. Rhoda King, Petersburg; Second Congressional district organizer, D. B. Mitchell, YR national committeeman; Delegate J. W. Kessel and Dr. Ward Keesacker, candidate for nomination for Congress from the Second District.

The program enables newcomers to communities to be welcomed and assisted in getting properly registered to vote, along with information as to where to vote.

In speaking of the theme for the picnic, Mrs. Snyder called attention to the fact that the registration books will be closed July 5, 30 days before the primary.

Many events are being planned, including races, games and other activities. Decorations are planned, and arrangements for parking will be in charge of the Young Republican Club.

For what is believed to be the first time in nearly 70 years of football history, the West Virginia University varsity team this season will wear an all-white uniform with blue numbers and trimmed in gold.

Never before has a Mountaineer football team worn white jerseys and white pants together.

The traditional uniform for many years was Old Gold, the primary color of the University's athletic teams. Time Magazine a couple of years ago unsentimentally referred to "the Mountaineers in their mustard-colored uniforms."

Occasionally an opponent would object to the all-gold uniforms as "camouflaging" the football. West Virginia has met few teams which wore anything similar to gold jerseys and therefore could use them almost at will. The football rules say, "players of opposing teams must wear jerseys of contrasting colors. The visiting team shall make any changes required."

Mountaineer squads also used a navy blue jersey with their gold pants but seldom did so against Pitt. That is the traditional combination of the Panthers.

Coach Art Lewis dressed his team in white jerseys in 1950, his first year at West Virginia, and in a white tear-away type of jersey in the opening game last season.

Longtime Mountaineer fans remember an occasional wearing of white jerseys and even blue pants, which "made the players hard to distinguish against the field." But 1958 will mark the first time that West Virginia has appeared on the gridiron wearing white jerseys together with white pants.

Sports Keg Residue

With a break from the Weatherman, the facelifting job on Stitches Field will be completed next week and ready for use the first week in July. . . The new backstop, consisting of three 16-foot sections and two 24-foot wings, is already up and workmen are in the process of erecting a fence all the way along the right-field line. . . There will be a 32-foot Cyclone fence four feet high in front of the dugout and another six feet in height will extend from there all the way to bank, 175 feet away. . . Off-street parking will be permitted in back of the fence, with the area large enough to accommodate approximately 50 cars. . . The fence will also help with crowd control as it will keep spectators from crowding on the playing field as happened so frequently in the past on occasions of big games. . . Other work remaining to be done at the Holland Street field includes the cutting of the infield into the newly-grown grass and the installation of new seats along the left-field line. . . Due to lack of funds, only a portion of the seats will be placed this summer. . . From Glasgow, Scotland comes a postcard penned by Louis (Red) Klotz, the onetime player-coach of Cumberland's Ducks in the old All American Basketball League. . . Klotz reports that he got a hurried call from Abe Saperstein to take over the All-Star team touring Europe. . . In their first game, the All-Stars shellacked a French quint by a 65-39 score, Red states. . . Klotz, who has been with the Saperstein Enterprises for the past half dozen or more years, has been coaching teams that play the Harlem Globetrotters on their coast-to-coast tours. . . Red is also scheduled to take his team to the Far East this coming fall.

Kluszewski Goes Over .300 Mark

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Big Ted Kluszewski's bat is booming again. He's hitting over the .300 mark for the first time this season.

Kluszewski's average now is .305. He's hiked it in the last eight games with a lustrous 13 hits in 29 trips.

Cub Home Runs Putting Pox On Warren Spahn

Braves Bow On Barrage Of Chicago Blasts, 5-4

By MILTON RICHMAN

The Chicago Cubs have suddenly broken out in a rash of home runs and even if they're not seriously infecting the rest of the National League, they've certainly put a pox on poor old Warren Spahn.

Spahn, quite possibly the best pitcher in the league, just can't understand it. He's given up 11 homers in his last three games and nine of them were hit by the Cubs.

They really laid into him last night with a barrage of four homers that finally beat the Braves, 5-4. The Cubs now have walloped 76 home runs, a total that is second in the majors only to the Giants' 77.

Moryn Slams Pair

Walt Moryn was Spahn's chief tormenter last night. He slammed his 14th and 15th of the campaign, and after Alvin Dark connected in the seventh inning to tie the score at 4-4, rookie Tony Taylor supplied the crusher with another homer off Spahn in the ninth.

That game-winning homer was Taylor's first in the majors. A .189 hitter, he accounted for Chicago's first run in the opening frame when he doubled, moved to third on an infield out and then stole home on Spahn. Glen Hobbie, another rookie, was the winner.

The loss was Spahn's fourth against eight victories, two of his setbacks having been suffered at the hands of the Cubs. Rookie Ray Semproch of the Phillies held the Dodgers hitless for 6½ innings and then wound up with a six-hit 9-3 victory over them. Home runs also played a big part in this game, with Stan Lopata and Bob Bowman connecting for Philadelphia and Joe Pignatano and Duke Snider for Los Angeles. Lopata gave the Phils a quick lead with a three-run homer off loser Johnny Podres in the first inning and Philadelphia scored five more in the third. Semproch, who notched his eighth victory, yielded the two Dodger homers in the ninth.

Southpaw Don Gross had to be called in from the Pittsburgh bullpen in the ninth to halt a three-run rally by San Francisco and preserve Ronnie Kline's 5-5 win.

A four-run rally in the seventh, highlighted by Bob Skinner's two-run homer, gave Kline a 6-2 lead going into the ninth and after he was nicked for one run, Roy Face yielded a two-run homer to Bob Schmidt and Gross came in to fan pinch hitter Jim Finigan for the final out. The victory evened Kline's record at 7-7. Al Worthington was the loser.

Rain postponed the Cincinnati-St. Louis game.

In the American League, Early Wynn pitched the ninth two-hit game of his major league career as the White Sox beat the Red Sox, 4-0. It marked the fourth shutout by a White Sox pitcher in the last five games.

Wynn struck out eight and walked only two in posting his seventh triumph. The White Sox made 11 hits off loser Frank Sullivan and reliever Leo Kieley. They scored their first run in the third and three singles and the sacrifice fly and added two more in the fourth on a single and doubles by Luis Aparicio and Jim Landis.

Yanks Stretch Lead

The Yankees stretched their lead to nine games with a 9-3 decision over the Indians. Andy Carey belted two homers for the Yanks while Elston Howard, Hank Bauer and Enos Slaughter each hit one. Johnny Kucks, charged with both defeats in both games of Cleveland's doubleheader victory in New York, June 8, got partial satisfaction with his fifth triumph. Rookie Gary Bell was the loser.

A two-run homer by Gene Woodling in the eighth inning carried the Orioles to their third straight victory over the Athletics, 4-2. Woodling hit his homer off Ned Garver, who suffered his fourth loss against seven triumphs. Foster Castleman also homered for Baltimore. Ken Lehman, second of four Oriole pitchers was the winner.

Little Albie Pearson was the big gun in Washington's 4-3 win over Detroit. The five-foot-five outfielder doubled home Eddie Yost to snap a 1-1 tie in the seventh and then tripled to drive in what proved to be the winning run in the ninth. Russ Kemmerer gained his fourth victory although requiring relief from Dick Ilyde. Paul Foytack was the loser. Clint Courtney homered for the Senators.

Hagge, Dodd Share Lead In Western

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Marlene Bauer Hagge and Betty Dodd shot two-under par 71s Thursday to share first place after the opening round of the 29th Women's Western Open Golf Tournament at the Kahkwa Country Club.

Beverly Hanson missed a six-foot putt on the final green and lost a chance for a three-way tie. She had a 72, one stroke ahead of Jackie Pung and Wilfrid Smith.

END OF GREAT YEAR—Members of Fort Hill High School's championship basketball and baseball teams were honored with a spaghetti dinner by coach and Mrs. Bobby Cavanaugh yesterday evening at the Cavanaugh residence, 506 Rieh Avenue. Here the co-captains pose with coach Cavanaugh. On the left are Eddie Weaver and Tommy Shaw, baseball, while on the right are Doug Metz and Thurl Roy, basketball. This was Cavanaugh's last season as cage mentor and his Sentinels finished in a blaze of glory by copping the state championship. Bobby announced his retirement from basketball this month, concluding 30 years of coaching the sport. Among the 40 guests last night were Wayne Boor, assistant cage coach, and Jimmy Eckard who also helped out. The Sentinel baseball team shared the city and county championships.

Coast Netmen Near Sweep At Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—One player from Yale and two from Iowa were the last obstacles today to a West Coast sweep of the National Collegiate Tennis Championships.

Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., a Yale sophomore and No. 3 seeded singles player in the tournament, made his stand in a semifinal match against Stanford's versatile and steady Jack Douglas.

Iowan Makes Bid

Art Andrews of Iowa, seeded No. 5, made a similar bid to halt Southern California's Peruvian whirlwind, Alex Olmedo, the 1958 champion, and a favorite to win the title again this year from his second-seeded position.

Andrews and Bob Posthast were the only doubles team left in the tournament from this side of the Sierra Nevada, and they faced the top seeded doubles combine of Olmedo and Edward Atkinson. The other doubles match was between Stanford's second-seeded team of Douglas and Dave Nelson and Southern Cal's No. 2 team of Jim Buck and Eduardo Guzman.

The battle for the team championship won by Michigan last year rested strictly between the two West Coast rivals, and today's matches would probably tell the outcome. Southern Cal led with 9 points to 7 for Stanford and 4 for Iowa. Each win in singles or doubles would add another point.

Douglas Seventh

Douglas, Stanford's No. 1 tennis player as well as its football quarterback, was seeded only seventh in the draw which sent 91 players into action from 43 schools on Monday.

But he knocked the ratings for a loop yesterday in eliminating top-seeded Ron Holmberg of Tulane, 6-3, 6-0.

In Dell, he faced another of the rising young stars of the East. The Bethesda, Md., youngster, who was a schoolboy sensation in the Washington, D. C. area, played well but erratically in racking up his four straight tournament victories.

Idle Midland Cops Twilight Lead As Barton Bows, 6-0

Midland's chances of increasing its regained lead in the Twilight Baseball League were dampened by an all-night rain which continued into the morning. The pacesetter are slated to play at Lonaconing today in the league's only game.

Barton tumbled from first place yesterday when Kip Montgomery of Westernport handed the Braves their second loss in 11 starts. The score was 6 to 0 with Montgomery allowing only three hits.

Lonaconing stopped Cumberland, 6-2, and Finzel whipped Wright's Crossing, 5-4, in other games. Midland was idle but moved up through Barton's loss.

Bobby Raines and Ollie Smith each batted out two hits and Junior Perry and Alex Ambrose collected two-baggers to pace the Westernport attack.

Barton garnered three singles off Montgomery's slants, shared by Warnick, Johnson and Wilson. The only thing in Barton's favor yesterday was the fact that Wilson stopped Clyde Broadwater's 10-game hitting streak. The Westernport catcher filed out twice and walked in three trips.

Cliff Preston struck out six and held the Cumberlanders to three hits. Stickley doubled in both Cumberland runs in the first inning. Curt Johnson belted a homer and double while Preston had a triple and double for the winners.

Finzel snapped a 10-game losing streak to register his first win yesterday as Ronnie Rice hurled a two-hitter against Wright's Crossing and struck out 13. Jack Burner singled home the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Burner had two hits, Dave Puffinburg a triple and Dan Puffinburg two singles for the winners. Gardner and Zumpano shared the two Wright's Crossing bingles.

Mays May Rejoin Giant Club Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays, leading National League hitter despite a two-week slump, was expected to rejoin the San Francisco Giants today after an over-night hospital stay for a physical check-up.

A terse hospital report said only that Mays had been examined Thursday and had remained there for the night. A hospital spokesman added, however, that Willie "probably will be released today, or tomorrow at the latest," and that a report of the examination would be given Giants Manager Bill Rigney.

Rigney, who benched Mays for the first time this season at Pittsburgh Wednesday night, said Willie appeared run down with a possible touch of the flu.

Trio 'Stove Tilts Listed; Kiwanis Wins

The five leaders in the Hot Stove Baseball League are scheduled for action today as the BPO Elks and Bedford Road Optimists, each in with 2-1 records, tangle in a 3:30 p.m. game at East Side Field.

Jaycees, also winning two and dropping one, will meet the Kiwanis Club, which won its second game of the season with a 1-0 victory over Lions last night, at 5:30 p.m. on the Fort Hill diamond.

In a game under the lights this evening at Penn Avenue, Cumberland's Optimists, the fifth team with a 2-1 mark, will face Rotary (1-2) at 8 p.m.

The Lions' Jimmy Stratton dropped a heartbreaking pitching decision last night as Kiwanis Club turned its only base hit into a 1-0 victory. Stratton hurled a no-hitter for 6½ innings, struck out 17 batters and walked only two before Charley Boone singled home Bosley who had reached base after being hit by a pitched ball.

Bosley pilfered second and continued to third on the catcher's overthrow before Boone's game-winning bingle.

The Lions collected but four hits off the slants of John Price who chalked up his second victory of the campaign. Bucky Whiteman's double was the only extra-base hit for the Lions, who were dealt their second loss of the season and knocked from the deadlock for first place.

Defending Trans-Miss Golf Champ Ousted

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—With defending champion Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Texas, eliminated the annual Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament was a wide open affair today.

Baxter was ousted Thursday by Dr. James Liggett of Denver in the second round of the tournament over Prairie Dunes' 6,526-yard, par 35-35-70 course. Liggett won the first four holes from Baxter and had him four down at the end of nine. He won 3 and 1.

Miller fired the third strike past 11 batters and yielded both hits to Johnson, a double and single. Laslo was the losing pitcher.

The young right-hander aided his own cause by rapping out four base hits, including a homer. Larry Sweitzer chipped in with three doubles, Marshall Coleman clouted a round-tripper, and Kenny Fike collected a pair of doubles and a single to highlight the 13-hit Oriole assault.

AAU Track And Field Games To Open Tonight

BAKERSFIELD, Calif.—(AP)—The 70th annual National AAU track and field championships get under way tonight with some 400 athletes competing for prestige and one of the plum trips abroad this summer.

Mixed with the Yankee contestants are several noted foreign performers, headed by mile runners Herb Elliott and Merv Lincoln of Australia, each hoping to break fellow Aussie John Landy's 3:58 world record for the mile.

The final is set for Saturday night with qualifying heats tonight.

Biggest target of the summer tours is a meet with Russia at Moscow next month. The first two American finishers in each event qualify for the squad.

Elliott and Lincoln are heavily favored to run one-two in the mile. But Don Bowden of the University of California, lone American to break four minutes, will run in the mile instead of the 880 yard event.

Bowden gives the event added punch as he tries to redeem himself for his fourth place finish to Ron Delany, Jim Grelle of Oregon and Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma in the NCAA last week.

Oakland Women Top Maplehurst

The Oakland Country Club women's golf team scored a 12-3 victory over Maplehurst lassies yesterday at Frostburg. The victors took three of the four four-somes, plus the only twosome played.

Oakland's Hilda Pritts was medalist with a gross of 102. Ruth Wood, Maplehurst, was runnerup with 110.

In a regular ladies day tournament on the Maplehurst course, 25 women competed. Mary Cook took Class A honors with a net 75, Jane Harris had a net 31 for Class B honors.

In quarter finals of the women's spring tourney Dolly Dean defeated Ruth Wood, 1 up; Gwen King defeated Blanche Stevenson, 4 and 3; Nellie Hilton defeated Janet Palm, 2 and 1; and Frances Hanna defeated Louise Bampton, 3 and 2.

Yesterday's inter-club results: Hilda Pritts and Virginia Lohr, Oakland, defeated Dolly Dean and Janet Palm, 3-0; Edna Dixon and Ellen Seefeld, Oakland, defeated Ruth Lohr and Ruth Wood, 3-0; Regina Smith, and Betty Swadley, Oakland, defeated Louise Bampton and Betty Groves, 2-1; Gwen King and Betty Hanna, Maplehurst, defeated Kate Fredlock and Louise Oss, 2-1; and Ida Davidson, Oakland, defeated Ann Cook, 3-0.

Retail Prices Of Milk Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department survey report gave no explanation on why showed today that retail milk prices have risen in the last year despite a drop in dairy price supports.

The department said that in 25 representative marketing areas of the country, retail prices of home-delivered fluid milk averaged 25 cents a quart. This was seven-tenths of a cent above the average of a year earlier.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson predicted last winter that milk prices would drop one-half to one cent a quart after the price supports were cut April 1. He reduced support prices for milk used for manufacturing purposes and butterfat to the legal minimum permitted by law. He also said there would be reductions in retail prices of butter and cheese. In some areas, prices of these products have declined, officials said.

Benson's forecast was based on the assumption that prices paid dairymen for fluid milk would decline sufficiently to permit reductions at the retail level. Today's report gave no explanation on why prices did not follow the secretary's forecast.

The department reported that dealers' buying prices for milk for fluid use in about 180 markets in the various parts of the country averaged $5.10 a hundredweight in early June. This compared with $5.04 a year earlier.

It would require a reduction of about 45 cents a hundredweight in dealer paying prices to justify a reduction of a cent a quart at retail.

Greenhouse tomatoes are Ohio's most valuable single fruit or vegetable crop.

Lee Remick, Proper Boston Girl, 'Typed' In Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For a girl who is fairly proper, Bostonian Lee Remick certainly has gotten herself into a lot of sexy roles. First came "A Face in the Crowd," in which she played a hip-swinging baton twirler with an eye for Andy Griffith and long hot Summer. Then in "Long, Hot Summer," she was a sultry Southern belle whose prime interest was sex. Her third picture is "These Thousand Hills," a Western. And does she get to play a valiant pioneer gal? Nope. She's a lady of the evening.

"I've got news for her. This sort of thing can't be stopped. Once a newcomer gets typed, especially in sexy roles, it sticks. The strange part of it is that Lee seems more like the Debbie Reynolds type in person than the Marilyn Monroe variety. She's a refreshing, wholesome girl who seeks no undue notice of her obvious physical merits. Matter of fact, the girl won't even pose for cheesecake. "They asked me to at Warners absolutely no. What I want out of acting has nothing whatsoever to do with cheesecake."

Jacoby On Bridge Bidder Set By King Sacrifice

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

My son, Jim, writes from Washington: "Here is a play that I made the other day that is new to me.

"My partner opened the six of clubs. I won with the queen and South dropped the eight. South was not a false-carder, so I decided that my partner had opened fourth best from five and that South's club had been a singleton.

"How was I going to beat the hand? South surely would hold seven spades for his three spade bid. If I played a second club he would simply go after the hearts. I would make my ace and queen but he would establish two heart tricks and be able to get rid of any losing diamonds he might hold.

"Finally, I saw a ray of hope. If declarer would hold three diamonds and my partner the ten spot I could beat the hand. I took a little extra time to prepare m

SRC Pushes Drive To Get Harbor Land

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission won't take no for an answer in its quest for 15 acres of land near the Baltimore harbor.

The State roads agency wants the property on the Patapsco River as a terminus for a second harbor tunnel.

The commission was rebuffed by the General Services Administration in Washington in its efforts to buy the land. The GSA controls the property.

So the roads commission asked the Federal Bureau of Public Roads yesterday to put some pressure on the GSA, and warned that if the tunnel has to be terminated at another location it will cost the federal government as much as $6,300,000.

This is because another terminus would extend the tunnel by 1,200 feet at an added cost of $7,200,000. The federal government would pick up the check for either 50 or 90 per cent of this added cost, depending on whether the project is classified as part of the primary or interstate highway system.

Lack Of National Police Unit Credit To U. S., McKeldin Advises Troopers

PIKEVILLE, Md. (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said today that it is to America's credit that it has no over-all national police force.

The governor said the American setup "is a loose system, to be sure, and probably not the most efficient in the world," and he noted that some European and Asiatic nations frown on our lack of a national police force.

"But while we maintain our system of local government with local police powers, we will never have a Gestapo or any other system of policemen spying on our people in general and making changes to please the political whims of some ambitious tyrant," McKeldin said.

In a speech prepared for delivery at graduation exercises of a Maryland State Police class, the governor said a national police force might have come to pass in America had it not been for the foresight of the state governments in launching state police systems. State police departments were begun in the 19th century in Texas, Massachusetts and Connecticut. These experiments were so successful that Pennsylvania joined the list in 1905, and others followed, McKeldin said.

The governor took the occasion to get in another plug for a larger

Maryland State Police force, at the high standards they established in police work.

"Other jurisdictions were inspired to follow their good examples, and to establish high qualifications for recruits and merit systems for advancement."

"In short, the State Police have made unnecessary any establishment of an over-all national police force by providing a degree of police coordination within each state and by setting higher standards for police work and police organization," he said.

The graylag goose, from which our domesticated form has sprung, is the best known goose.

McKeldin said "the great value of the State Police has been in the high standards they established in police work."

Service Station Robbed; Police Hunt Two Youths

WESTON, W.Va. (AP)—State Police Sgt. C. R. Holbert said a search was under way early today for two youths who robbed a service station at Walkersville in Lewis County of $100 in cash and two rifles.

Two youths believed to be 18 or 19 years of age drove up to the station late yesterday while David Marsh, 17-year-old son of owner Ernest Marsh, was alone.

Young Marsh said that one of the men asked for gas, and the other went inside the station. When Marsh also entered the building, the youth inside ordered him to lie on the floor.

The two then escaped with the money and 30-30 and .22 caliber rifles in a car bearing Ohio license plates, Holbert reported.

Broiler Chick Placement Up

CHARLESTON (AP)—Broiler chicks reported placed in West Virginia last week totaled 688,000, up 6 per cent over the previous week and 28 per cent above the same period in 1957.

Broiler prices averaged 21.8 cents per pound, a slight drop from the previous week's average but still higher than last year's comparable period, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My father is a fireman. As soon as the five o'clock whistle goes off so does he. He gets home by two in the afternoon and all he does is get under my mother's feet so she can't get anything done. This makes her mad and they fight. I think if he was not a fireman and didn't have such crazy hours they would get along better. What do you think?

FIREMAN'S DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: Plenty of firemen manage to keep their own "home fires burning." Your Mom should manage her working hours to fit in with Dad's.

DEAR ABBY: I met Don at the Roller Rink and although I was only 16 and he was 17 we fell in love. We got married in sort of a hurry and I had to quit school because of the baby which was on the way. I am expecting in August and Don goes out to roller skate almost every night. I can't go with him because the doctor says no skating past my sixth month. I am very lonesome. Should I go to watch him skate

FIRM MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: I have a lady friend who is not poor by any means. She lives alone and gets around socially quite a lot. When she is at a luncheon or tea or even a dinner she is never "hungry" so she asks the hostess if she can put the food in a sack and take it home. Naturally they give her plenty. Do you think this is all right?

CURIOUS FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: It's all right with me. What's eating you?

DEAR ABBY: I started to go with this boy last spring, on our first date he tried to kiss me and I stopped him saying, "I'm not that kind of a girl." I have grown very fond of him and we still date but now whenever we are together I put myself in a position to be kissed and he turns my head away and says, "Remember, you're not that kind of a girl." How can I get him to kiss me without throwing myself at him?

DEAR UNKISSED: If your boyfriend has been sulking because you refused to be kissed on your first date, he is too young for you. Don't put yourself in any more kissable positions. Make him ask for it.

CONFIDENTIAL to Marilyn: Carry Daisies — they don't tell!

CONFIDENTIAL to Fat-Boy: Knowledge is the awareness that fire will burn. Wisdom is the blister. Blisters do heal. Cheer up!
